Non-Stop Pilot Ends 7,683-Mile Solo Hop

Los Angeles (AP) — Tireless non-stop pilot Max Conrad—gaunt, thirsty and happy — Thursday ended a nearly 8,000-mile solo light plane flight from Casablanca, Africa.

He brought his blue and white single-engine craft in for a perfect landing at International Airport at 4:47 p.m. (EST). He took off at 6:09 a.m. EST Tuesday. He was in the air 58 hours 38 minutes. Airport sources gave the distance as 7,683 miles.

The 56-year-old veteran of the airlanes claimed a new distance record for light planes. He far exceeded the 6,979 miles flown by W. L. (Pat) Boling from Manila to Oregon.

Conrad lurched stiffly from the cockpit of his Piper Comanche and told reporters he was thirsty. He smiled with vast relief as someone handed him a soft drink.

He said he ate nothing on the flight, got sick from rancid tea over Cuba, and felt so good he planned a walk "to get the kinks out" before resting.

Surprise

Conrad's plane skimmed in out of light overcast almost unnoticed even by those waiting for him. He had planned to stop at El Paso, and extending his trip here was a surprise.

He landed far down the runway and taxied to the customs "shack" in a remote corner of the vast airport.

He had difficulty talking at first and explained that he had only a little coffee and tea during the lonely flight.

Conrad beamed with pride as he said he thought he had flown more than 8,000 miles and was up "about 63 hours."

This was his 56th flight across the Atlantic ocean and by far the longest.

Big Circle

He said his longest previous flight was 36 hours.

Conrad told reporters he flew a big circle over Trinidad, touched the U.S. coast near Corpus Christi, Tex., and crossed the southwestern United States.

"I've got 18 gallons of gasoline left and I'd trade that for a glass of water," he said.

Somebody handed him the water.

Conrad said it had been two days since he tasted anything that good.

He didn't bring any water along for lack of room.

Asked how he felt about his flight, Conrad said:

"Fine. Everybody likes to break a record. I've done that dozens of times but never officially. I finally decided to do it officially.

His purpose?

'For Kids'

"It's my idea to make aviation interesting for kids."

After talking with reporters, Conrad jumped into a phone booth to talk to a daughter, Molly, in San Francisco, one of 10 children.

He's been flying 32 years—became interested when his orchestra played for the first Ford Air Show in Detroit.

His record-breaking plane is 24 feet long and has a wingspread of 36 feet. The engine is 259 horsepower. The craft weighs 1,504 pounds when empty. It weighed 5,000 when it took off.

Conrad had more than 500 gallons of gasoline aboard when he left Casablanca.

R.G. Gets Bingo Enforcement

Governor's Substitute Bill Amended, Given First Round Approval

By Betty Person

Nebraska lawmakers Thursday placed the full responsibility of enforcing bingo in the hands of the governor and then gave 32-4 first-round approval to the new bingo bill.

The Legislature took hefty slaps at 5 different efforts to amend the bill submitted by Gov. Ralph Brooks as a substitute for the bingo bill he vetoed, shouted down an attempt to kill the measure, and accepted only two amendments.

Amendment Proposed

The new bill, LB719, originally provided that enforcement should be placed under the director of the Department of Agriculture and Inspection, but the Government Committee had proposed an amendment that it be placed under the Secretary of State's office.

The committee amendment was defeated 10-22.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth then proposed that it be placed under the Liquor Commission, but this was defeated 9-24.

Ruhnke also proposed that an amendment which would have prevented playing bingo within 5 miles of any city or village which had voted against playing bingo, and this was turned down 6-24.

3rd Amendment Loses

The Plymouth senator then proposed an amendment to reduce the minimum age limit for playing bingo from 21 to 16, but this also was slapped down 7-23.

Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton then moved to amend the bill to reduce the mandatory 10% tax imposed by the bill to 4%, but this also was turned down by a vote of 3-29.

Sen. Terry Carpenter proposed that the bill be amended to place the enforcement directly with the governor, and this was accepted 27-9.

State Enforcement

Carpenter noted that Brooks had vetoed the first bill because he objected to its provisions for local enforcement and wanted state enforcement instead.

"Let's give him the responsibility he wants," Carpenter said, "and give it to the fullest extent. He will have to rise or fall on it. If he's successful, then the credit must be his, and if he is unsuccessful, he will have to take it."

The only other amendment adopted was offered by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha and provides that only Nebraska non-profit corporations would be able to get a license to conduct bingo games. It was adopted on a voice vote and the bill was then advanced from general file.

Strauss' Integrity An Issue

Senators Divided

Washington (AP) — Senate Commerce Committee members divided sharply Thursday night over whether Lewis L. Strauss has the integrity and the competence to serve as secretary of commerce.

A majority report said the committee's stormy hearings on the nomination established beyond doubt Strauss' "honesty and integrity, competence, and his long record of cordial and willing cooperation with the Congress."

In contrast, a minority report said that Strauss "is lacking in the degree of integrity and competence essential to proper performance of the duties of the office to which he has been nominated."

The conflicting reports from the committee, which recommended confirmation last month by a 9-8 vote, cleared the way for the expected start Friday of Senate debate on the controversial appointment.

Recess Appointment

Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), has been serving in the cabinet post since last November under a recess appointment. His nomination was formally submitted to the Senate by President Eisenhower last Jan. 17.

Before the reports were filed, Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) said he would vote to confirm Strauss. He was the seventh Democratic senator to announce publicly that he will support the nomination.

Of the 34 Republican senators, only Sen. William Langer of North Dakota has announced that he will vote against Strauss. To win confirmation, Strauss would need the votes of 49 senators if all 98 vote since Vice President Nixon could break a tie in Strauss' favor.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, told reporters he will announce his stand probably at about the time the Senate reaches a vote.

Asked whether he thought Strauss would be confirmed, Johnson said "I'll let the Senate decide on that."

Brooks: Change Is Satisfactory

Gov. Ralph Brooks Thursday termed amendment of his new bingo bill to place full responsibility for its enforcement under his office "very satisfactory."

"The governor's office has the advice of the attorney general," the governor pointed out.

"We'll be able to enforce it," Brooks said.

Governor Introduces Bill To Slice His Own Salary

Gov. Ralph Brooks sent to the Legislature late Thursday afternoon a bill which would cut the governor's salary back to the present $11,000 a year figure.

The action followed his signing earlier this week a bill, LB2, which increased the salaries of the Supreme Court and District Court judges along with that of the governor.

When he signed LB2, which raises the Supreme Court judges from $12,00 to $13,000, District Court judges from $10,000 to $11,000 and the governor's salary from $11,000 to $14,000, Brooks said he was opposed to the increase in his own salary and would introduce a new bill to knock it out.

Sen. Joe T. Vosoba of Wilber signed the new bill, LB727, for purposes of introduction.

The increases allowed in LB2 will not become effective until the start of the next term, in 1961.

When the bill had been read, Sen. Terry Carpenter commented, "I don't know what the governor's concerned about, he won't be here anyhow."

Legislative rules calling for a public hearing were suspended, and the bill was immediately placed on general file where it receives initial floor consideration and will be taken up in the regular sequence.

New Bills Planned

Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to the governor, confirmed late Thursday that Brooks will offer two bills Friday to replace salary measures he had previously vetoed.

The vetoed bills were LB536 which would increase the Railway Commission secretary's salary from $6,500 to $7,000 a year, and LB516 raising salaries of judges on the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court from $7,200 to $8,500 a year.

Moves to override the governor's vetoes of these measures had previously failed in the Legislature, and Tuesday, in an unprecedented action, the governor suggested the Legislature might wish to reconsider its action on the measures.

It developed that determination of whether the Legislature could reconsider its action would be so complicated and time-consuming that it would be best to simply have new bills introduced.

Adenauer Will Hold His Post

Decides Against President Race

Bonn, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has decided to remain chancellor of West Germany instead of running for president, a party chief announced Thursday night.

Will Rasner, chief whip of Adenauer's Christian Democrats, told reporters that Adenauer had informed the party floor leader, Heinrich Krone, that he no longer wanted to run for president.

Close associates of the 83-year-old Chancellor said he has changed his mind about the presidency because he believes the international situation requires him to remain in direct control of the government.

Change of Mind

It is expected that Adenauer will tell his party about his change of mind at an emergency meeting of the parliamentary faction Friday morning.

Adenauer originally accepted his party's nomination as presidential candidate with the explanation that he was ensuring a smooth continuation of his policy.

But it has been anything but smooth since, as his party has been split over the succession. Adenauer favored quiet, unassuming Franz Etzel, the finance minister, as his successor. But the majority of his party wanted Ludwig Erhard, vice-chancellor and economics minister, regarded as a big vote-getter because he is credited with master-minding postwar recovery.

Supreme Court Asked To Set New Death Date

. . . Action Expected Friday On Request

A new execution date for murderer Charles Starkweather will be asked Friday following a Thursday affirmation by a United States Circuit Court of a lower Federal Court's denial of Starkweather's application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Attorney Gen. C. S. Beck said he has taken the matter to the State Supreme Court and will make an official request before the high court Friday.

Attorney Gen. C. S. Beck said he has taken the matter to the State Supreme Court and will make an official request for a new execution date before the high court Friday.

The Circuit Court affirmed Thursday Federal District Judge Robert Van Pelt's earlier denial of a writ of habeas corpus.

The Circuit Court's ruling was based on grounds that Starkweather was not entitled to such a Federal writ until he has exhausted all remedies in the Nebraska courts.

A prerequisite to any Federal Court intervention is exhaustion of all possible state legal remedies.

According to Herman Ginsburg, one of Starkweather's Circuit Court-appointed attorneys, who are no longer responsible for his defense, the condemned redhead now has two avenues of hope.

He may apply for a writ of habeas corpus in Lancaster County District Court or the Nebraska Supreme Court. Or, he could ask a stay of execution from any justice of the United States Supreme Court and apply for a writ of certioari from that court.

Ruling Awaited

Meanwhile, at the Penitentiary, Deputy Warden John Greenholtz awaits legal advice from Atty. Gen. Beck before preparing for a new execution date.

The order to proceed with the execution would be given Greenholtz by Beck after the latter makes his official request for another execution date before the Supreme Court Friday.

The high court is scheduled to meet in regular session Friday. All 7 judges were in Lincoln Thursday night.

Members of the attorney general's staff conferred at length late Thursday afternoon after Starkweather's appeal was denied.

'Final Friday Afternoon'

Following the attorney general's staff conference, Deputy Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer told newsmen "a tentative decision" had been reached.

"We should have something final Friday afternoon," Meyer said.

Earlier, Greenholtz said that if he were informed by the attorney general's office that he had authority to set the execution, he would likely set a date at least a week hence.

Starkweather's stay of execution, granted by Federal District Judge Richard E. Robinson in Omaha, ended Thursday.

Mrs. Althea Neal, the condemned youth's grandmother, said she learned of the Omaha Court decision while watching television. She said she had no knowledge concerning any

He is now again without legal advice because the responsibility of his three Circuit Court-appointed attorneys ended with the unsuccessful appeal Thursday.

Next Step Not Yet Decided

Guy Starkweather, father of condemned murderer Charles Starkweather, said he did not know what further steps, if any, might be attempted in his son's behalf, following a denial of Charles' appeal Thursday.

However, the father was reported to have been interested in a suggestion by one of Starkweather's Circuit Court-appointed attorneys that an application to the Lancaster County District Court for a writ of habeas corpus might still be possible.

He said he wondered whether the three Circuit Court-appointed attorneys who represented Charles at the Omaha hearing were now through with the case or whether they would continue to represent the youth.

Duties Ended

All three attorneys said Thursday that the Circuit Court's order appointing them described where their responsibility began and ended.

It ended, they said, when the Circuit Court found that Starkweather had no probable cause for appeal.

No attorneys can be found who will take the case, he said.

"Even if we have facts, who is going to present them?" he asked.

"I want to make one comment," Guy Starkweather said.

'Could Have Saved 7

"Charles has been described as the killer of 11 people. If the boy had been picked up when I asked to have him picked up Jan. 27, 7 of those people would have been alive."

"If he's executed for these crimes," the father continued," those that were responsible for not following the complaints of mine and four or five other people should be put on trial for their incompetence."

It was on January 27, 1958, that Charles and Caril Fugate, now serving a life sentence at the Womens' Reformatory at York, ventured forth from Caril's home on a flight from law officers that resulted in the death of seven persons.

More Clouds, Rain Seen For State

Suntan seekers might as well put their bathing suits away another day, according to weather predictions throughout Nebraska for Friday.

Partly cloudy weather was predicted for the whole state Friday night and Saturday. Scattered showers and thunderstorms were expected in the western part of the state Friday afternoon and evening and in central Nebraska Saturday afternoon.

Thunderstorms were reported at North Platte and Imperial and in the vicinities of Sidney, Scottsbluff and Chadron Thursday night. Lincoln received a trace of rain late Thursday night.

Highs between 75 and 85 were expected for the state Friday.

Berlin Prod Fails

Gromyko Snubs West Bid For Free Access

Geneva (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko sidetracked Thursday a weestern bid for a guarantee of free access to West Berlin.

The 3 western ministers, in a 90-minute secret session, asked for the guarantee as a test of Soviet willingness to reach a compromise agreement in the Berlin crisis.

President Eisenhower warned Wednesday that he would refuse to go to a summit meeting unless the Russians withdrew their threat to the isolated city and its exposed supply lines.

Western informants said Gromyko, in the "no progress" session, said he would be happy to assure free access to West Berlin—but posed this block:

Such a guarantee would be forthcoming if the West agreed to convert West Berlin to a demilitarized free city.

Rejected

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville repeatedly have rejected this Soviet propsoal, on the ground it would end the western occupation and leave West Berlin defenseless.

British informants said Gromyko indicated he would be willing to return to a discussion of the access question after the conference agreed on the future of West Berlin.

Gromyko has suggested as an alternativee to his free city proposal that Soviet troops might be posted in West Berlin along side the 10,000-man western garrison. The western ministers have rejected this as well.

NOT QUITE THE INTENT OF THE BILL!

Due to a mistake just discovered in a bill which was intended to make it possible to pay state employes twice a month rather than the present once a month, it developes that employes would be paid only once every two months.

The error stems from the bill's language which calls for salaries to be paid bimonthly (every two months) instead of semi-monthly (twice each month).

The error can be corrected through amendments which may be made on the floor.

The bill, LB725, was introduced at the request of the governor, following a study made by State Treasurer Richard Larsen.

Starkweather Failure To Try State Courts Is Cited

New Action Here, High Court Appeal Seem Only Ways Left

By Charles Beal

Charles Starkweather's failure to assert in a state court that he was denied due process of law in violation of the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution, apparently is the point which places him once again within the power of Nebraska courts.

Milton R. Abrahams, one of Starkweather's Circuit Court-appointed attorneys said Thursday that in his opinion, Starkweather took the wrong move when he applied for a writ of habeas corpus in Judge Robert Van Pelt's Federal District Court rather than in Lancaster County District Court.

A writ of habeas corpus alleges that an accused is being illegally held in violation of his constitutional rights.

Starkweather attempted to get consideration of his constitutional rights in a federal court before asking for such consideration in a state court, a process which federal courts demand before they will take action in a state criminal prosecution.

Two Possibilities

However, federal consideration of whether Starkweather's federal constitutional right to due process of law possibly is available if he does one of two things, Abrahams said:

—He may file an application of habeas corpus in Lancaster County District Court alleging that he is being held at the state penitentiary on a conviction sustained without adequate counsel on his part during his murder trial and thus in violation of the due process of law clause of the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

The contention of inadequate counsel would stem from his assertion that his appointed attorneys, William F. Matschullat and T. Clement Gaughan did not try to get a change of venue or have the trial moved from Lincoln where passion ran high against Starkweather during his murder trial and thus resulted in community prejudice against a fair trial for him; also, that his attorneys abandoned him after a state supreme court denial of his appeal from Lancaster County District Court.

Could Appeal

Should the Lancaster County Court then deny his application for a writ of habeas corpus, he could appeal to the Nebraska Supreme Court from that denial and if again unsuccessful, could apply for a writ of habeas corpus from Federal District Court.

He would then have exhausted his state remedies and would be in a position for Federal Court consideration of his case.

—He could appeal directly to the United States Supreme Court. This could be done, Abrahams explained, by simply asking one Justice of the Supreme Court for a stay of execution in order to appeal the ruling Thursday by the Circuit Court of Appeals that the Court could not consider any alleged violation of his Federal Constitutional rights without the question being brought up in a state court. Herman Ginsburg, Circuit Court-appointed attorney, contended Thursday that the question was not raised but that the requirement that it be raised "was not adamant."

Then, Abrahams explained, Starkweather could file an application with the United States Supreme Court for that court to issue a writ of certiorari to consider whether the Circuit Court erred in not entertaining the merits of his appeal. Only four of the nine justices of the U.S. Supreme Court are required to rule on whether a writ of certiorari will be issued, he said.

Since a writ of habeas corpus is a civil and not a criminal remedy, Abrahams explained, in neither move would law require appointment of an attorney for Starkweather.

2 Picked Up In G.I. Admit Thefts Here

Two men apprehended in Grand Island have admitted noon-hour burglaries of two Lincoln doctor's offices as well as being involved in an estimated 100 other breakins in 6 other states.

Lincoln Police Capt. E. R. Henninger, who went to Grand Island to interview the men regarding their involvment in Lincoln crimes, said one of the men admitted he and his partner had entered the unlocked Sharp Building offices of Dr. Paul Thorough and Dr. Forrest Rose May 28 and stole about $112.

Henninger said the men, ages 27 and 24, also reportedly admitted stealing more than $3,000 in over 100 burglaries since April in doctors' offices in Nebraska, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. He said the men said more than half of these offices were left unlocked.

Rossmeisl Must Get Out Of U.S.

Ex-German Officer Will Go Voluntarily

By John P. Brewer

Cincinnati (AP)—Kurt Franz Rossmeisl learned Thursday he must leave the United States—the country he adopted illegally. He agreed to go of his own accord.

But the onetime German Army officer who escaped from a prisoner of war camp said he doesn't want to get far from America.

"I hope to go to Mexico," he said, "and go to the nearest American consulate and apply for an American visa."

Milton V. Milich, hearing officer for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, ruled Rossmeisl is in this country illegally because he has no valid visa.

No Passport

He also has no passport. That is his big worry right now.

Milich said Rossmeisl's only option is to leave the country voluntarily. Otherwise, he must be deported.

Rossmeisl said he asked the German Embassy at Washington to help him get a passport.

His original home was in Austria-Hungary. It was later absorbed by Czechoslovakia. Then Germany, under Hitler, annexed it as part of the Sudetenland. Now it is under Czech rule again.

However, a ruling of Hitler's made Germans of all Sudetenland residents.

Rossmeisl, now 53 and balding, is hampered by arthritis.

A master of 9 languages, he was a linguist with Rommel's Afrika Korps when he was captured in 1943.

Warden Says 2 Cons Can Stay On Water Tower

Pottstown, Pa. (AP)—Two convicts at the nearby Graterford Penitentiary climbed to the top of a 185-foot water tower within the prison walls Thursday.

Warden David M. Myers said:

"They're nuts."

The reasons for the convicts' act apparently were known only to them.

Nebraska Air Guard Unit Wins Award

The Air National Guard trophy for the "Outstanding Defense All Weather Unit of 1958" has been presented to Nebraska's 173rd Fighter Inspector Squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Fred H. Bailey Jr.

The Lincoln-based unit will receive a trophy named after Maj. Gen. Wilston P. Wilson, chief of the National Guard's Air Force Division.

This is the first time the Nebraska unit, operating as an all-weather unit for only two years, has won the award.

The Lockheed-Northrup and North American Aircraft companies donated the trophy, which is a large silver urn surmounted with a large American eagle.

The trophy will be presented at the Night Fighter Assn. annual meeting held in conjunction with the Air Force Assn. convention at Miami Beach, Fla., in September.

His death was announced by Bob Yaeger, publicity spokesman for the film company.

Vidor had been staying at the Imperial Hotel in downtown Vienna.

Vidor was credited with helping to make stars of Rita Hayworth and Glen Ford. Among his pictures were "Gilda," and "Cover Girl."

Starkweather Appeal Nixed

farther appeal steps the family might take.

State Remedies Argued

Argument in the Circuit Court hearing Thursday centered around whether Starkweather had exhausted all state remedies. State Deputy Attorney Gen. Cecil Brubaker argued that the Federal Court had no jurisdiction in the case and even if it did Starkweather had not exhausted his state remedies.

Herman Ginsburg of Lincoln, in one of three separate arguments by the three Circuit Court-appointed attorneys, agreed that the record of the case does not show exhaustion of state remedies (such as application for habeas corpus) in the state courts. But, he countered that this ruling was not adamant and that Starkweather's was a special case.

He said Starkweather's original court-appointed attorneys had deserted him after they had appealed his case to the State Supreme Court.

No Application Made

They agreed that an application for a writ of habeas corpus or writ of certiorari could have been made in the state courts, but was not.

D. Nick Caporale of Omaha, argued that Starkweather's lack of counsel in preparing the application for habeas corpus was basis in itself for the Circuit Court's finding that Starkweather had probable cause for appeal and thus he should receive another stay of execution to perfect the appeal.

"If we cannot make a decision on the basis of what is before us in the petition, then in the interest of justice, the Court should reverse this (Van Pelt's) denial and hold a hearing," Caporale said.

Ginsburg argued that Starkweather's original attorneys spurned the slayer's request that they apply for a change of venue because of inflamed public opinion in Lincoln following the 11 slayings.

"I am a member of that community," Ginsburg said. "I know how prejudiced I was."

The third Starkweather attorney, Milton Abrahams, raised the points of Starkweather's lack of counsel and the question of his sanity.

Washington —Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) said he will be a candidate next year for a third term.

"Having cleared the question with Mrs. Kerr and then the Lord, I have decided to be a candidate again for the United States Senate in 1960," Kerr said.

Councilman's Firm Among Bidders On New City Car

An automobile firm operated by a city councilman was among the bidders on a new car for the City Health Dept. replacing an older model.

City officials said the bid of the DuTeau Chevrolet Co. was submitted under procedures provided in a charter amendment adopted by the voters.

However, Bob Ring Plymouth submitted the low bid of $1,571.50. The Du Teau bid was $12 higher, but was second low. Five bids from various Lincoln firms were received.

Councilman Al DuTeau is president and treasurer of the DuTeau Chevrolet Co. He has filed formal declaration of this interest with the city as required by new charter provisions.

Under the charter amendment, any firm or business in which a city official, employe or board member is interested may do business with the city if this interest is declared and the individual involved refrains from voting on the contract award or otherwise participating in the business matter involving the city.

The amendment, adopted in the charter election last March, liberalized the previous "conflicts of interest" provisions of the old charter.

It was the first bid received under the new charter provisions, city officials said. The recommendation on the low bid is to go Monday to the Council.

CD Officials Study Lack Of Resources

State and federal civil defense officials Thursday studied resource shortages in certain areas of Nebraska.

Orders as to the best proper allocation of resources in the event of an emergency will be issued Friday along with a report to Gov. Ralph Brooks and the federal agency, Deputy State Civil Defense Director Austin Bacon said.

Officials met in Lincoln in conjunction with the national civil defense exercise, "Operaton Alert 1959."

County reports on food, clothing, housing, lumber, medical supplies, engineering supplies and machinery were surveyed, Bacon said.

Communications in the event of emergency were also discussed.

Rationing, price freezing or other controls were among matters considered.

Ogden Reid Is Confirmed

Opposition Of Fulbright Overridden By Senate

Washington (AP)—The Senate Thursday confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of Ogden R. Reid to be ambassador to Israel.

In approving the 33-year-old former newspaper executive's nomination the Senate overrode the opposition of Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. The action was by voice vote.

Ogden Reid

Fulbright told the Senate it was an "improvident and irresponsible" nomination for a critical post in the trouble-ridden Middle East.

But Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), one of Eisenhower's most outspoken critics, championed the ex-president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune and said Reid showed intellectual honesty in his testimony. And Morse said he was impressed by Reid's competence in general.

Fulbright Puzzled

Fulbright said he was at a loss to know "why the President should have selected Mr. Reid for this extremely challenging, highly sensitive job."

With the nominee's mother looking on from the visitors' gallery, Fulbright said it may have been because Reid became head of his family's newspaper at the age of 29.

"Mr. Reid did not in any sense work his way up," Fulbright said, "and the nomination can hardly be attributed to his success as executive director of the Herald Tribune."

Morse Satisfied

Morse, who fought Eisenhower's nomination of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce to be ambassador to Brazil and who is fighting the President's appointment of Lewis L. Strauss to be secretary of commerce, said of Reid:

"He is a qualified and good selection. Mr. Reid meets the test and is entitled to confirmation."

The Senate also gave voice vote approval to the nomination of George M. Johnson, Negro educator and lawyer, to be a member of the Civil Rights Commission. Johnson was nominated by Eisenhower on March 10 to fill a vacancy created by the death of J. Ernest Wilkins, also a Negro, on the 6-member commission.

Also confirmed, without debate, was the nomination of Thomas S. Gates Jr., to be deputy secretary of defense. Gates, former secretary of the Navy, succeeds the late Donald A. Quarles.

4 IN IOWA BREAKOUT RECAPTURED

Albia, Ia. (AP)—Four convicts, armed with a rifle, shotgun and knives, were pursued by law officers into a farmyard and captured near the small community of Georgetown Thursday.

The 4 had broken out of the Iowa Penitentiary at Fort Madison early Wednesday after holding two guards at knifepoint while they sawed bars from a prison window.

Country Capture

Two were found in an alfalfa field and the 3rd was flushed from behind a hedgerow by shots frob an officers' carbine.

They are Lloyd Woodson, 38, of Quincy, Ill., who was serving a life term for murdering a Keokuk policeman; Albert Boerger, 26, of Kansas City, and Robert Janes, 24, of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The 4th, Elun Girdler Jr., 23, of Peoria, Ill., slipped through a wooded area and back into Georgetown, where officers said he threatened Mrs. Ed Coady with a knife and took her car.

He was captured by Appanoose County Sheriff Paul Thomas on a country road south of Georgetown.

Reformatory Shifts 50 'Troublemakers'

Chillicothe, O. (AP) — The sequel to a disturbance at the federal reformatory here came Thursday when the first of 50 inmates were transferred to medium security prisons in other states.

The Federal Bureau of Prisons ordered the 50 transferred to institutions at Terre Haute, Ind., and Lewisburg, Pa.

The inmates had been described as "ringleaders" in a racial disturbance at the integrated reformatory.

Curiosity Key To Complete Education, Dow Tells Grads

Dr. David Dow Thursday night told the 174 graduating seniors of Southeast High School that "curiosity is a wonderful thing and a necessity in life."

The University of Nebraska law professor reminded those gathered in the Public Schools Activities Building that having a curiosity is not enough in itself. People should be able to exercise their curiosity, he said.

"There is no such thing as an educated man or woman," Dr. Dow continued. "People may have an education, which is the art of an exciting and intelligent curiosity."

Diplomas were awarded by J. Arthur Danielson of the Lincoln Board of Education.

Principal Archie L. McPherran presided.

The speaker was introduced by his son, Phillip, who was among those graduating.

ICC Helps Truckers Beat Boycott

Washington (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Thursday authorized a group of small Nebraska truckers to extend their routes beyond Nebraska state lines to circumvent a freight interchange boycott imposed by James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

At the same time, the commission refused to grant similar extended operations to Galveston Truck Line Corp., Houston, Tex., which went through the same type of boycott in 1955. The commission held Galveston's difficulties with the union have been cleared up.

Both cases involved the "hot cargo" clause in standard Teamsters Union contracts under which union members reserve the right to refuse to handle goods coming from a company the union has termed unfair.

Desmond A. Barry, president of the Galveston firm, said in Houston, that the decision "means the death knell of Jimmy Hoffa's hot cargo clause—we have been fighting it for four years."

"This decision in the Nebraska case," said Barry, "endangers the operating certificate of every truck carrier in the nation who goes along with the hot cargo clause."

Barry said it means that if a trucker accedes to a union demand and refuses to handle freight offered by a non-union carrier, or one which has a dispute with the union, the ICC will grant parallel operating authority to the boycotted carrier to serve the same area as the boycotting carrier.

In the Nebraska case, the ICC said 12 small motor carriers operating routes within the state were the objects of an unsuccessful Teamsters organization drive for closed closed shop agreements.

When the drive failed, the Commission said, the Nebraska truckers were labeled unfair and the Union invoked the hot cargo clause to halt their interchange of freight at Omaha with large unionized carriers operating over wide areas of the country.

The small carriers in mid-1956 then organized a consolidated company called Nebraska Short Line Carriers Inc., based at Lincoln, and got temporary authority from ICC to handle freight shipments beyond Omaha into Chicago and St. Louis.

As it did in an earlier decision relating to the Galveston truck line boycott, the commission said it wanted to make it "unmistakably clear" it was not attempting to settle labor disputes. The decision, said the Commission was concerned with the actions of the large licensed truckers who had refused to interchange freight with the Nebraska group in violation of their operating certificates.

Brooks Hard To Figure

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There is nothing very brilliant in the thought that Gov. Ralph Brooks has people in general a little confused. While only a few might find themselves otherwise, however, some semblance of order can be seen in the governor's reasoning. It is possible that what has been lacking is the right kind of a start.

One thing should be made clear. The governor did not put his signature and approval on LB2 because it contained a salary raise for the governor. In some areas there has been a rather obvious effort to make the situation look as though he did. He vetoed three salary bills with the explanation that so long as the people have seen it to vote down a salary increase for legislators and so long as the legislators have seen fit to vote down his civil service legislation, he deemed it fit to kill all other salary measures.

Previous Bills Vetoed

This he did until the bill came along with a raise from $11,000 to $14,000 for the governor. But the bill also contained raises for underpaid Supreme Court and District Court judges. Brooks thus was facing a dilemma — stand by his announced decision and let a worthy piece of legislation die or reconsider his position and do the best thing for the state.

To his credit, he more or less ate his own words and approved the salary bill. But the action stemmed from the need of a salary increase for the judges, not himself. Brooks is neither selfish nor stupid enough to have approved the measure for his own sake.

Had the bill been on the governor's salary alone, there is no doubt he would have vetoed it. In fact, he has said he would introduce a bill changing his salary back to $11,000. Although he may feel obligated to do this, it would be ridiculous for the Legislature to accept such a bill. The present governor's salary is far too low and politics or personalities should not be permitted to enter into the issue.

But the governor also took a second and unprecedented action in recommending that the Legislature override his previous veto of two other salary bills. He had vetoed three such measures but only two of the actions were sustained by the lawmakers. This seemed to be the most confusing part of the episode.

It raised the question of why the governor vetoed the three bills in the beginning. He was either doing it in an effort to influence the legislation on other matters such as the civil service bill or simply made a mistake in judgment. An element of resentment might have been involved due to the fact that the governor has had little success in dealing with the Legislature.

But the fact remains that Brooks knew the bill on the judges' salaries was in the works and would very likely receive legislative approval. He should have known when he made his veto stand so firm that he would face this measure and almost have to accept it.

Legally, he could have turned the measure down but it would have been a serious mistake in view of the need and any such action would probably have been reversed by the senators. But in all of this business, it should be remembered that politics has been the order of the day in the current Legislature. Where it might have had any bearing whatsoever, politics was used as the basis for making a decision. It has been a part of a great many important issues and resulted in no small amount of poor legislative actions. The general public will suffer the results of this.

Starting Point Political

Who started it all, the governor or the Legislature, is about as immaterial at this time as the answer to the question on the chicken and the egg. The salary business has not been handled too well by the governor but the situation appears to be ending on the right note. At the same time, the Legislature can take a good share of the credit for the atmosphere which exists at the Capitol today and contributes so much to the destructive attitude which prevails there.

County's Business Public

The county recently has taken both good and bad positions in regard to the conducting of its business in a public manner. It has made a commendable effort to open up its tax equalization board hearings on business inventories when such hearings were closed last year as a result of conflicts with federal tax returns.

There may still be some legal problem here in the minds of commissioners but the county will have a hard time going wrong so long as it works to carry on its business in public as it should. But the commissioners took it upon themselves this week to close a meeting in regard to budget matters.

The meeting was held in private and the result announced in public. The result was that the county board will operate as a finance committee to prepare the new year's budget—securing the professional services of a certified public accountant. A part of this meeting, it is reported, was devoted to consideration of a salary matter.

Individual salary matters discussed in private seldom get much argument from anyone but this is no excuse to carry the meeting on for other business. Personalities, it is reported, were also involved in a part of the budget committee decision. This, however, is a weak excuse, regardless of what it means.

Simply because a discussion fails to present a public official in a favorable light is not a valid excuse for doing business in a private office. The precedent is particularly bad when it has anything to do with the county's budget as this is a matter of great public interest and concern. It also is an area in which the public's right to know what is going on is perhaps the strongest. If any other budget matters are handled in this way, the county will find a lot of unhappy taxpayers on its hands.

The Ponderable Next Generation

Probably the most ponderable graduating class of the year are the 207 young men who are receiving their bachelor of science degrees together with military commissions from the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

It is ponderable because it is the first class to be graduated from the academy. The institution opened its doors in 1955.

In some respects the Air Force institution has much in common with the ancient institutions at West Point and Annapolis which have been turning out professional Army and Navy men for many years. There are the basic engineering courses and the student customs, the sharp drilling, the tight discipline and the inter-cadet relationships, many borrowed from the older academies. But there is more than that at the Air Force Academy. The military educators are trying to prepare the officer of tomorrow—the arms expert who is also something of a scientist as well as a social man with cosmopolitan and international ken.

The young men are being prepared for careers which must be exceptionally fluid. Obsolescence walks abreast of improvement and innovation in the air arm. The jet of today is the junker of next Tuesday. The tactics of defense shifts to missiles and as missiles change and improve so do the tactics of defense. It is a big order to freeze in an educational program for men whose predominant influence in life is staggering change. One hopes that the designers of the new academy have guessed right.

But one thing is certain. The arrival of air academy officers marks the beginning of a new era in the air arm. The great Air Force we know was more largely the creation of young men who did not start out to be military men, and few of them had academy backgrounds. They were the college graduates of the late twenties and early thirties who learned to fly at Kelley Field when a niggardly military budget required the Army to resort to brief programs largely to build an air reserve.

Eleven Ways To Have A Wreck

Traffic fatalities in themselves are bad enough news, but the public view of the highway problem is not complete without contemplating the staggering number of injuries short of death.

The Travelers Insurance Company accident data book list the 1959 deaths in United States as 29,700. But its list of injured runs to an impressive total of 2,414-000.

That is to say that for every highway death 81 others received injuries serious enough to become a statistic. Many of the victims were crippled for life.

What causes the accidents? For the most part human failure.

Greatest killer was excessive speed. It destroyed 12,770 persons, 43 per cent of the death total. It injured 980,000 persons, 40.6 per cent of the injury total.

Travel on the wrong side of the road was the second worst killer—16 per cent. Violating right-of-way ranked third—13.1 per cent. Surprisingly enough, violating right-of-way, the third ranking killer, was the second ranking injury cause—25.2 per cent. While it killed but 3,890, it injured 608,400. Possibly this is explained by the frequency of right-of-way violations at city intersections where speeds are restricted.

A review of the eleven ways to have a wreck, to dispose of a life or to distribute injuries constitutes a good handbook on how not to drive.

The insurance company's findings are:

1958	Persons Killed	Per Cent	Persons Injured	Per Cent
Exceeding Speed Limit	12,770	43.0	980,000	40.6
On Wrong Side of Road	4,750	16.0	154,500	6.4

Gromyko, Nixon Are Look-Alikes

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon, who shot up to the second political post in the nation in a relatively short period of time, sat not far from Andrei Gromyko, who shot up to the important post of foreign minister of Soviet Russia also in a short period of time.

They were at the foreign ministers luncheon given by President Eisenhower after the Dulles funeral.

"Mr. Gromyko," said the vice president pleasantly, "I am sometimes mistaken for you. Traveling abroad they sometimes think I am the foreign minister of the Soviet Union."

"And I," replied Gromyko, "am sometimes mistaken for you. They say there goes Vice President Nixon."

Note—It's been a long time since Nixon defeated Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas for the Senate in California on the charge that she followed the Communist line in Congress.

Even before the long and painstaking hearings on Adm. Lewis Strauss had been published, most senators had made up their minds on how they would vote. Many had purely personal reasons entirely unconnected with the dynamite-laden record.

Here are some of the senators who have made up their minds and some who haven't, plus their background motives:

Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri—wavering. He confides: "Admiral Strauss is a social friend. It would be embarrassing not to vote for him."

Sen. Richard Neuberger, Oregon—wavering. "He's a personal friend of my family."

Sen. Willis Robertson, Virginia—For. The dominating senator from Virginia, Harry Byrd, has set the line for Strauss, and Robertson always follows Byrd.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, West Virginia—Wavering. He used to be vice president of Capital Airlines which has transportation problems before the government. Secretary of Commerce Strauss is now trying to bring the whole field of transportation under his authority. Randolph denies, however, that this influences his position.

Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee—For. His great friend and political benefactor, Bernard Baruch, is for Strauss. Albert votes with Baruch.

Sen. Jack Kennedy—wavering. Jack doesn't say so, but in the back of his mind is the possibility that if he becomes president he will have confirmation troubles too. On the other hand, his fellow Catholic, colleague Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, has warned that any presidential hopeful who votes for Strauss will stamp himself as a tight-control president not likely to cooperate with Congress.

Humphrey Decides To Tend The Store

WASHINGTON — Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, a leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, has put away his traveling bags for the present and settled down to his legislative chores and his Minnesota constituency. This is not because his ambition has waned or his spirit is dimmed. He is not even out of money.

He has altered his tactics because of what he saw and learned on his journey. Such behavior amounts almost to heresy in this self-absorbed capital which wages the war of the presidential succession every day at the cocktail hour with the same old counters and pawns. Nonetheless, Humphrey is accounted an agile politician even by his critics, so what he thinks of the state of the party's political thinking could be news, too.

For one thing he does not believe the voters are as yet as interested in the presidential aspirants as they are in themselves. He hopes and expects that he has caught the attention of many of his known and potential supporters so that they will not stray when the time seems somewhat riper for conquest.

He has been impressed by the number of new faces in the party, the relative youth of many to whom he talked and their knowledge of the issues. Since the senator is not the favorite of some of the party's elder statesmen, his conviction that such men will not be able to arrange the next nomination can be considered slightly suspect.

What he did discover, with which many reporters agree, is that the many Democratic governors are not ready yet to be counted out in the race for the big prize. He mentions no names and points no fingers.

The inescapable conclusion, of course, is that Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California is well forward on the list. In fact, the governor's staff now accepts it as a fact that their dragon is not reluctant. A further bit of evidence is that he is planning a trip to the Far East to broaden his horizons.

This being so, the chances of a challenge to Brown as a favorite son in the California primary are more than ever remote. With no test there, it is improbable that any candidate can achieve a commanding lead before the convention meets.

A further reminder that state politics does not stand still is appearing in several places.

Senator Wayne Morse has announced that he will oppose Senator Richard Newberger for renomination in Oregon. This is certain to be an upsetting factor in a key northwest state, which is one of the few having a presidential primary that could be significant.

All these events may not be vital factors in presidential calculations, but they do show that change is a law of politics as well as of life.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Corn May Bow Out To Milo

By MONA B. PARKER

Mrs. Dave Hatt of the Shelby Sun's editorial staff was amazed to see dust in the air one morning, but a news broadcast explained it by saying it was Dakota dust. That was fair enough, she supposed, since we've sent them our share other years.

"Summer rain is rather like catsup out of a bottle. You're becoming exasperated because you don't get any. Then suddenly you get too much."

Mr. Marvin of the Beatrice Sun had lunch with one of the local farm experts the other day and inquired how much longer he thought farmers there could safely wait to plant corn. The whole matter, he was advised, revolved around what kind of weather we have next fall. It would be great, Mr. Marvin decided, if we could wait until fall to decide when to plant this spring.

And he added further that if rain keeps farmers out of the fields much longer, "there will be a whale of a lot of milo seed going into the ground."

Farmers around Weeping Water, according to the Republican, are beginning to wonder if perhaps Nebraska's major crops there this year won't be rice, ducks and mosquitoes, and are toying some with the thought of using pontoons on their tractors and hitching the mosquitoes to the plows.

Another seasonal irritation was fretting several editorial writers, so they had their say on the matter . . .

Don Harpst remarked a bit tartly that it was hardly possible to see the grass in the Curtis city park through the forest of dandelions. "Since there is more than enough for salad, it is suggested that a spraying machine be used."

Stan Smith of the Wauneta Breeze had been doing battle with the annual pests on a more personal scale in his own yard, and did a bit of philosophizing to ease his blisters and frustration . . .

"I always wonder about the guy who first said dandelions are not desirable. After all, it would have been just as easy to say these small yellow flowers are the thing to have—and solved a lot of problems for a lot of us—me in particular!"

But then, things are tough all over . . .

Take the man-bites-dog story from the Bennet Sun . . .

Reading a report from the State Game Commission, the Sun chuckled over the item from the Sandhills where two cows and a calf were seen chasing a coyote out of a pasture . . .

A little Pawnee City girl has a superb disdain for all members of her own sex, herself included. A real tomboy, she was delighted when she was allowed to attend a cub scout meeting with her older brother.

Confiding to the den mother, she said, "I don't like girls. I don't even like myself."

Three among the ranks of enthusiastic fishermen betook themselves from Holdrege recently to Harlan County dam, Gust Nelson, Earl Carlson and Norris Johnson. Came lunchtime and Mr. Nelson partook of rusks and coffee from his sack. Mr. Carlson had a sack of fruit. Mr. Johnson opened his to find — his wife's hair curlers. The Citizen reports that the three caught over 50 fish, anyway, "spurred on by Norris's hunger, no doubt."

Guardian Of Rights

Alexandria, Neb.

Sure, we have a right to stay in Berlin. It is a conquered city, isn't it?

But would it not be ever so much more appealing to the people of the world if we would say we are staying because if we do not stay, the people of West Berlin will be deprived of their rights as persons, rights which not only they but all peoples everywhere in the world are entitled to possess?

Good Examples

Bladen, Neb.

Why do some people have so much sympathy for criminals when there is too much evil set before them and they have fallen so low? If we want respectable citizens, we as older people must set an example of good rules and laws.

Liquor produces criminals and not respectable people. Liquor affects the brain and it is up to the law to do something about it in an effort to reduce crime.

Both Sides

Lincoln, Neb.

I have no argument in regard to the Republican party's being for the rich man. I am a registered Democrat but I hope I will never be the kind who say "my party, right or wrong."

If this type of men want facts, they should read both sides of the case. I have met people who were Democrats and they believed all the smear that was spread about MacArthur and McCarthy. But many who were not prejudiced saw the light after reading "The Fight for America" written by McCarthy before he died.

It's time we begin to see that the Communists are playing a big part in forming our foreign policy and don't fool yourselves in believing that they don't know the tricks of the trade. They know which way the wind is blowing and they work on political prejudice.

It would be a fine thing for all Americans to read the McCarthy book.

Mall Confusion

Lincoln, Neb.

This downtown mall is a real nuisance not only to me but to many of our business men, I've heard them discuss it back and forth as I ride to town and back on the buses.

When I get as far as 13th and O where the street lights are haywire, I get to N Street as soon as possible. No one knows if or when he is to cross. The sign says "walk" on red and "don't walk" on green. If we're to go by the signals, why not take the lights out or cover them up so everyone won't be confused and a policeman won't have to stand there with his temper up all day having to bawl somebody out for going at the wrong time?

As another person puts it, we don't have nearly enough parking places now, without taking those on O street away from us.

These people who want to keep the mall should take a ride in the country where they could see grass growing and hear a creek babbling, and not confuse us folks who try to come shopping.

Example Of Rudeness

Lincoln, Neb.

How many times have we heard our teenagers referred to as rude and inconsiderate? If anyone attended the Lincoln High School commencement exercises on Tuesday evening, he would have seen the ultimate in rudeness.

While the seniors were being awarded their diplomas —a very proud and solemn moment—there were hundreds of parents who got up and left the building, blocking everyone else's view and making so much noise that the rest of us couldn't even see or hear what was going on. We've all struggled and worked to get our children through 13 years of schooling and graduation is so very important to us as well as to them but many parents were deprived of the thrill of seeing their own son or daughter receive that long-awaited diploma.

Granted, it was hot in the building but if those 500 graduates could sit quietly in hot caps and gowns, is it too much to ask adults to wait a half hour longer to leave?

The next time we hear a teenager ridiculed, or are tempted to do it ourselves, let's stop and ask ourselves where they learn their rudeness. The answer won't be a pleasant one, but truth seldom is.

Stolen Plant

Wilber, Neb.

I know exactly what Mrs. D. means about the cemetery wreath being stolen (Star, June 3). Last fall my niece whose husband is in the service and stationed in Florida planted two little plants on the grave of their son. Watering them with her tears, she said, "We can't visit him often, but at least he will know he is constantly in our thoughts."

Later that fall when I came to the little grave, a big gaping hole greeted me. Someone had dug one of the plants, not even bothering to fill in the hole again.

Had it been some rare plant, one would still wonder. But our town is alive with them and I'm sure anyone would gladly have given the party a plant.

How one could sleep with this on his conscience after such an act is more than I can imagine.

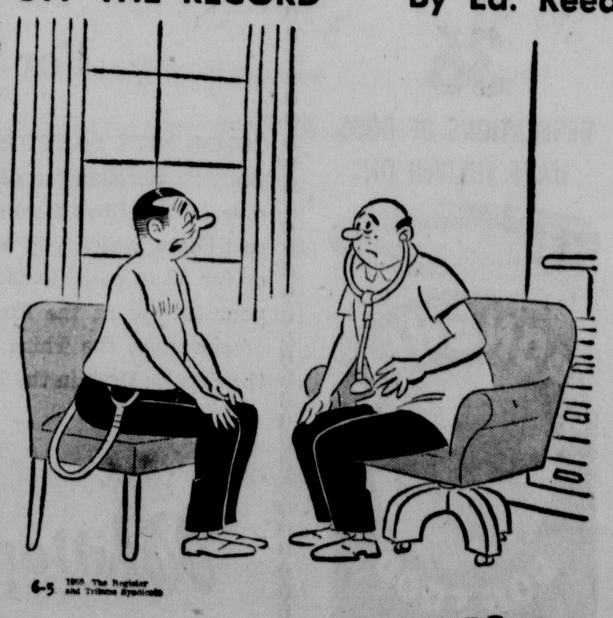
OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed



"You say I'm working too hard?—But, Doc, that's the only way I can keep up my 'EASY PAYMENTS'."

Boy, 15, Admits Slaying 3-Year-Old Neighbor Girl

Philadelphia (AP) — A 3-year-old girl was found strangled in the cellar of a neighbor's home Thursday, and police said a high school boy admitted the killing after making his confession to a Roman Catholic priest.

The victim was Becky Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anatol Holt.

Detective Jack Phillips of the Police Juvenile Aid Division said Edward Cooney, 15, a student at St. Joseph's Prep, a Catholic high school, admitted he choked the child to death in the cellar of his home about 1 p.m.

The boy told Phillips he then went to mow a neighbor's lawn, returned home for dinner with his parents, and then went to confession at a church nearby. Phillips said the youth told the priest of the killing, and the priest told him to go to authorities.

Opened Closet

As officers and volunteer searchers combed the neighborhood for the missing child, the Cooney youth returned to his home, ran into Phillips outside, and led him to the cellar. There, Phillips said, he opened a closet where the child's fully-clothed body lay.

He told investigators he "didn't know why" he killed the little girl, an attractive brown-haired child whose father is a mathematics professor connected with a Sperry-Rand Corp. project at the University of Pennsylvania.

The victim was reported missing by her mother about 3 p.m. Searchers fanned out through the heavily wooded area around her home in a vain effort to find her. The youngster's tricycle was found in front of the Cooney home, a few doors away from the house where the Holt family lives.

State of Shock

The Holts, who are natives of Latvia, have two other daughters, Daniela, 5, and Mila, 6 months. The Cooney boy's parents were in a state of shock. They have two older daughters.

The boy was taken to police headquarters for further questioning. Phillips said he admitted attempting to molest the child.

Cooney, a good-looking, dark-haired youth with a crew cut, was held at the Youth Study Center on a homicide charge. Police said he had no previous record of any sort.

The boy told Phillips he was alone in the house at the time of the killing. He said he saw the youngster outside, led her to the cellar, and there killed her.

Nephew Claims Gov. Long Might Return In Month

Galveston, Tex. (AP)—Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long's recovery prospects got a shot in the arm Thursday when his nephew, Sen. Russell Long (D-La) said "he might be back within a month."

Sen. Long made his comment to newsmen in Baton Rouge, La., after returning from a stay with Gov. Long at John Sealy Hospital here. The 63-year-old governor entered the hospital last Saturday following what his wife called "a complete physical breakdown."

Early reports after the governor submitted to treatment said he was defiant and was resisting medication. But a hospital spokesman said later the governor was not violent, was thinking and talking clearly. The spokesman, who declined to be identified, said the governor was just "mad as hell" he was in the hospital.

The same spokesman indicated Long could be released from the hospital in two or 3 months.

Dr. Naylor's latest pastorate was at Central Methodist Church in Albuquerque, now a congregation of 3,000 members. He will begin his duties in Omaha June 21.

Wedding, Commissioning, Commencement In One Day

Jay Schnoor of McCook has been looking forward to Saturday (June 6) for a long time and he plans to make the most of it.

At 10 a.m., he will receive his Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering at the University of Nebraska commencement exercises.

At 2 p.m., he will be commissioned an ensign in the U.S. Navy.

At 7:30 p.m., he will be married to Miss Connie Berry of Onawa, Ia., in ceremonies at St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln.

To make the wedding ceremonies a University affair, he will have as his best man, Bill Elfeldt of Sutherland, and as an usher, Ken Barnard of Lincoln, both of whom will also graduate Saturday. Connie's two candlelighters, Rhonda Minnick of North Platte and Jane Cochran of Sutherland, also will receive degrees.

And to round out the week end, Jay will celebrate his 23rd birthday Monday.

Cancer Society Launches Drive To Alert Public To Dangers Of Cigarets

. . . Campaign Aimed At Teenagers

Boston (AP) — An intensified drive to alert physicians, the general public—and particularly teenagers—"to the dangers of cigaret smoking" was launched by the American Cancer Society.

The directors of the society, meeting in Boston, adopted resolutions to provide for more vigorous dissemination of information uncovered in researches relating to cancer and smoking.

While the tobacco industry has consistently contended that there is no proven link between smoking and cancer and that medical authorities differ on the matter, the American Cancer Society has announced acceptance of evidence which is said indicates that cigaret smoking is a causative factor.

Dr. Dean Davies of New York, administrator for research on lung cancer for the ACS, and Dr. Howard C. Taylor, director-at-large of the American Cancer Society, said more than a score of studies in different parts of the world all showed lung cancer patients to be predominantly cigaret smokers.

No Evidence

They said evidence to the contrary has never been developed.

The Cancer Society board approved resolutions for stepped-up activity by its public information committee and its committee on tobacco and cancer.

At the same time, it also adopted resolutions for preparation of plans, and cost estimates, for programs to change public smoking habits.

One program to be considered would call for a committee of statisticians, social scientists and specialists in communication to work out a study of a "total education effort towards modification of the smoking habit" in a selected pilot community.

Another plan to be considered would be to study smokers and non smokers. This program, if undertaken, would be aimed at finding out just why people smoke—or don't smoke. It would study whether "physiological and social factors are responsible" for people taking up smoking in the first place, continuing to smoke—or ceasing to smoke.

Three At Irving Junior High Get Science Awards

Three Irving Junior High School students, Stephen H. Hull, Tom Pansing and William F. Zeman, were presented certificates for outstanding work in the field of science by the National Society for Metals.

Hull's award was for a series of micro-photographs he took after constructing his own attachments for the microscope. Pansing's award was presented for a study of sun spots which he carried on this winter, and Zeman was presented an award for an aqua-lung he constructed.

The contest was conducted by the National Science Teachers Assn.

NWU Student Assaulted By Unknown Man

Police and the Sheriff's office are investigating the beating of a 21-year-old Wesleyan University student by an unknown man early Thursday morning.

Officers said John Cunningham of 2300 No. 56th suffered numberous cuts and bruises and a knife cut in the hand during the assault.

He reportedly stopped near 16th and Adams to see who was following his car and when he approached the other car was assaultde.

He told his girl friend to drive away and inform the police, which she did. Cunningham showed up at her house several hours later, and said he had walked there from north Lincoln after the beating.

Cunningham is reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital where he is being held for observation.

Washington (UPI) —The Army aaid that a microscopic autopsy produced no evidence that space monkey Able suffered any radiation damage during a 300-mile high ride in a rocket last week.

It said a final examination confirmed preliminary autopsy findings that Able died from "post-anesthesia heart arrest" during an operation to remove a tiny electrode implanted under the monkey's skin for the space ride.

Smith Tosses Hat Into 4th District Race

Ainsworth Water Plan Loss 'Main Reason For Candidacy'

Ainsworth, Neb.—A longtime Brown County Republican worker, W. C. Smith Jr., has announced his candidacy for Congress in the Fourth District, the post now held by Democrat Rep. Donald McGinley of Ogallala.

Smith, who serves as attorney for the Ainsworth Irrigation District, cited the attitude of McGinley and Rep. Lawrence Brock, Democrat serving the Third District, toward the Ainsworth irrigation project as the main reason for his decision to enter the campaign.

Just this week the House Appropriations Committee recommended eliminating a $2 million request to continue construction of the Ainsworth project. An initial appropriation of $1 million was granted for the work last year.

Rep. Brock has actively opposed the measure, while Rep. McGinley has refused to support it.

Smith claims that Rep. McGinley's brother, Ted McGinley of Valentine, "has led the opposition and that speaks for itself." The Ainsworth lawyer further claims that a few influential ranchers who are against the project prompted Brock's opposition by contributing to his campaign last year.

Smith maintains the real opposition is "a group of wealthy ranchers who live outside the district and who do not like a canal passing through their land." The project would take water from the Snake River south of Valentine and transport it by canal some 60 miles to the Ainsworth area.

The Ainsworth project is the most feasible of any in the Missouri basin, Smith declared.

Smith, Brown County Republican chairman for the past 20 years, has been active in both the National and Nebraska Reclamation Assns. He is a former Brown County attorney, serving in the post for 20 years.

Smith and his wife are the parents of two children.

Girl Charged In Murder Adjudged Mentally Insane

Omaha (AP) — Mary Holmes, 16-year-old Kansas City, Kan., girl charged with second degree murder in the May 22 shooting of Spencer Y. Daniels, 39, of Omaha, has been adjudged mentally deficient and schizophrenic. Deputy County Attorney William Ryan said Thursday.

Ryan said the Douglas County Board of Mental Health has recommended the girl be held permanently in a state mental hospital.

He said he will prepare a detaining order to be sent with the girl to the hospital. The murder charge will stand pending her possible release, Ryan said.

Omaha-Bluffs Bridge Plans Going Ahead Despite Iowa

Nebraska will "push ahead" on the Omaha-Council Bluffs bridge planning despite a published report that the Iowa Highway Commission has deferred action on surveys and design work.

Stephen Gilbert, assistant deputy state engineer, said Nebraska would "carry the ball" on design of the half-mile bridge as well as the freeway and ramps all the way to the interchange at 28th and Dodge Sts. in Omaha.

Neither Gilbert, Henry Schlitt, deputy state engineer, nor John Hossack, program Commission has deferred action on surveys and design work.

State Engineer Roy L. Cochran was out of town for the day on a project inspection tour in the Lincoln-Omaha area.

Gilbert confirmed a report that Iowa Chief Engineer John Butter and Cochran had agreed to hire a consulting engineering frim to make the construction plans.

The Nebraska project is considered to be the bridge and freeway to the 28th and Dodge Sts. interchange as a single planning unit.

Gilbert said the only design work left exclusively to Iowa is the interchange on the Iowa end tentatively planned to encircle the location of the Playland Park rollercoaster.

House OKs Doubled Aid For Local And State Sewage Plants

. . . GOP Veto Threats Are Ignored

Washington (UPI) — The House ignored GOP threats of a presidential veto and tentatively approved a program doubling federal grants for construction of local and state sewage disposal plants.

The Democratic-backed legislation would authorize an increase to one billion dollars for the program, designed to curb stream pollution. The grants would be made at the rate of $100,000,000 a year for 10 years, compared to the present level of $50,000,000 a year over the same period.

Republicans accused Democrats of "deliberate wild spending . . . budget-busting . . . irresponsible deficit spending" in asking to double federal subsidies for sewage plant construction.

Necessary

Democrats countered that it was necessary to double the program to eliminate a backlog of plant construction which is vital to cleanse the nation's streams of growing pollution.

The President's fiscal 1960 budget recommendation for Nebraska was $274,660.

Some $683,850 was allocated to the state in fiscal 1959, State Sanitation Division Director T. A. Filipi said.

Airport Spending

Washington (UPI) — House-Senate conferees disclosed they have tentatively agreed on a plan to boost long-range spending for airport construction without upsetting President Eisenhower's fiscal 1960 budget.

Key Democrats on the conference committee said they felt the proposal should effectively answer Republican charges that their airport spending program would wreck the President's precariously balanced budget.

The compromise 4-year plan calls for less federal spending in the 12 months starting July 1 than the President proposed. It would authorize grants of slightly less than $64,000,000 in fiscal 1960 compared with the President's $65,000,000.

Boost

Over the full 4 years, however, the compromise would allot $338,000,000 for the program compared with the administration's $200,000,000 plan.

The President's 4-year recommended allocation for Nebraska was $1,546,885.

The airport bill approved by the Senate, which was amended in the Senate-House conference committee, had allocated $4,750,000 to the state.

Hodtwalker Resignation 'Expected'

Gubernatorial Assistant Robert Conrad said the Thursday resignation of state trooper LeRoy Hodtwalker of Randolph was "not unexpected."

Conrad said the resignations of Hodtwalker and 3 other northeast Nebraska state troopers in recent months were "strictly a departmental matter and were being handled by State Safety Patrol Chief Col. C. J. Sanders."

In a public letter of resignation Wednesday Hodtwalker and Trooper Virgil Kaminski, who resigned recently, said the patrol required troopers to issue a certain number of violation cards a month. They both objected to the alleged quota system.

Conrad pointed out Hodtwalker's resignation came after more than 5 months of sick leave following a six-day suspension in January.

Hodtwalker ticketed two superior officers in January for having improper license plates. The troopers were trailing him, he alleged.

In addition to Hodtwalker and Kaminski, Troopers Allen Bligh of South Sioux City and Andy Neilsen of Lyons quit recently. Both in opposition to the supposed quota system, according to Hodtwalker and Kaminski.

Attempt To Override Veto Of Bottle Club Bill Fails

A move to override Gov. Brooks veto of LB22, the bill to license and regulate bottle clubs in Nebraska failed Thursday when only 10 legislators voted in the affirmative, 16 votes short of the number required to override a veto.

After the 10-24 vote had been taken, Sen. Terry Carpenter, principal introducer of the bill, said he would "within a few days" ask the Liquor Control Commission to start the wheels rolling to make bottle clubs comply with present laws.

Two Licenses

Under LB23, two types of licenses would have been issued: one to clubs which only handle bottles which are brought in by members, and the other to clubs determined to be non-profit by the federal government allowing them to purchase liquor and sell it by the drink to members.

The latter would apply to veteran and fraternal organizations and country clubs and other such private clubs.

In making the motion to override the veto, Carpenter said the "only realistic thing to do is legalize what now goes on illegally."

'No Reformer'

The Scottsbluff senator noted that he belonged to "most of these organizations and I'm no reformer," but argued it was "not a healthy thing to allow these things to go on illegally."

Carpenter, who has liquor interests, emphasized that the proposed legislation "will not affect any license I now have or might have in the future," and that he personally did not care whether they overrode the veto, but that he believed he should make the effort.

'Both Politicians'

Commenting on the opposite stands he and Brooks have taken on the measure, Carpenter said, "You realize we're not in agreement on this, as well as many other things, and perhaps if each of us would count to 10, we wouldn't say a lot of the things we do. But we're both politicians—at least I'm attempting to be one."

Carpenter said he would ask the Liquor Commission to contact every known bottle club in the state and send them copies of the present law and "give them 90 days to conform to it."

He said he questioned whether a "single club can comply" with present laws, "which up to the present time they've never done," but that he believes the present laws should be enforced.

Postponed

Ft. Bragg, N.C. (UPI) — A scheduled mass jump of 5,000 paratroopers in Army-Air Force war games here was postponed for the third time because of bad weather.

Nominated

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower nominated John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, for promotion to the permanent rank of major general.

Medaris, now a permanent brigadier general, has been serving in the higher rank on a temporary basis.

a paragraph from a letter we received from the Marketing Research Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.

"The implication of recent national advertisements is that the Department endorses the use of trading stamps. We want to make it clear to the public that we neither recommend nor condemn the use of stamps. Advertisements similar to yours helps us to do this."

"Beechners maintain that stamps are costly, are inflationary, that our no stamp policy is reflected in our lower prices, in your lower total food bills.

There is more to trading stamps than meets the eye. Just last week the Connecticut Assembly passed a regulatory bill (unanimously by the Senate).

Pay Boosts Added For State Posts

The Legislature boosted salary raises for legislative clerk Hugo Srb and State Banking Director Edwin N. Van Horne Thursday.

The pending salary bill was amended to boost Srb's pay from $8,000 to $9,500 and Van Horne's from $8,000 to $9,000.

The amendments were appended by unanimous consent to LB646, a salary measure which also boosts the pay of the state agriculture director and state insurance director from $8,000 to $9,000, and the salary of the director of motor vehicles from $7,000 to $8,000.

The amended bill will come up for final passage later.

Also Thursday, the Legislature killed a bill offered by Sen. David D. Tews of Norfolk which would have required licenses of anyone selling or dispensing liquor. Covered would have been bartenders, salesmen, store clerks and most everyone involved in the liquor business.

The measure, LB590, had survived its major floor test on general file and appeared en route to final passage. But after Tews recalled the bill for purposes of adding a minor amendment, Sen. A. A. Fenske of Sunol moved to kill the bill by striking the enacting clause and the motion carried 24-12.

The salary bill amendment to raise the pay of the banking director was offered by Sen. Edwin McHugh of Murdock. He proposed a hike to $9,500 but Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian received unanimous consent to reduce the figure to $9,000.

Sen. Tews offered the LB646 amendment to hike Srb's pay. In a brief supporting speech, Tews said the Legislature habitually has been "stingy" with its own employes and questioned the wisdom of this policy.

Senate Votes Half Billion For Space Agency Fund

. . . 'Survival May Be At Stake'

Washington (UPI) — The Senate voted 81-1 to provide a budget of nearly a half billion dollars for the civilian space agency next year. It acted after hearing a warning that national survival may be at stake.

The senators also were told that the bill was only a down payment toward much more costly programs. Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) said the nation should know space exploration will be expensive as well as "exciting."

The single vote against the bill was cast by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La). He said he objected to creation of new federal units "whose work could well be handled by existing agencies."

The measure, approved by the Senate Space Committee only two days ago, would authorize the National Aeronautics & Space Administration to spend $485,300,000 in the 12 months starting July 1. However, Congress must provide the actual cash in another follow-up bill.

Sounds Warning

Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) sounded the survival warning. He said the Air Force's ballistic missile chief, Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, had told the Space Committee that Russia could destroy this country if the Soviets won control of space.

The Senate approved every cent sought by the space agency, even restoring $4,750,000 for a high-energy fuel test center which the House had stricken from the measure.

This means the bill will go to a joint House-Senate Conference Committee to hammer out the difference. The House had deleted funds for the test center on grounds that a remote, safe location still had not been found.

The Senate responded to a plea by space agency director Keith Glennan. He said the agency expects to find a site before Congress reconvenes next January. To wait until then for the funds, he said, would delay the project.

Louis Horne Gets Community Chest Post In Denver

Louis W. Horne, who headed the Lincoln Community Chest for 33 years and directed 29 consecutive successful campaigns, a record which was exceeded by only one other city in the United States, has been named to the campaign staff of the Denver Area Community Chest.

Denver Chest Executive Director Kenneth W. Miller stated in making the announcement, "We are fortunate in obtaining Mr. Horne's services. His extensive fund-raising experience will be of great value as we proceed with the organization of the 1959 combined Chest-United Funds campaign."

Horne retired from the Lincoln Chest in January.

P.O. At Gross Closes After Long Service

Gross, Neb. (UPI)—The U. S. Post Office here officially closed this week after 63 years of service to Boyd County residents.

Postmaster Mrs. Anna Loukota and inspector C. M. Duxbury of Grand Island made the official closure at this tiny community.

The Gross Post Office was the only one of that name in the United States. Stamp collectors took note of that fact and request came from 37 states for the "last day" postmark.

Gross, once a flourishing inland town, was one of the first Boyd County communities to be settled.

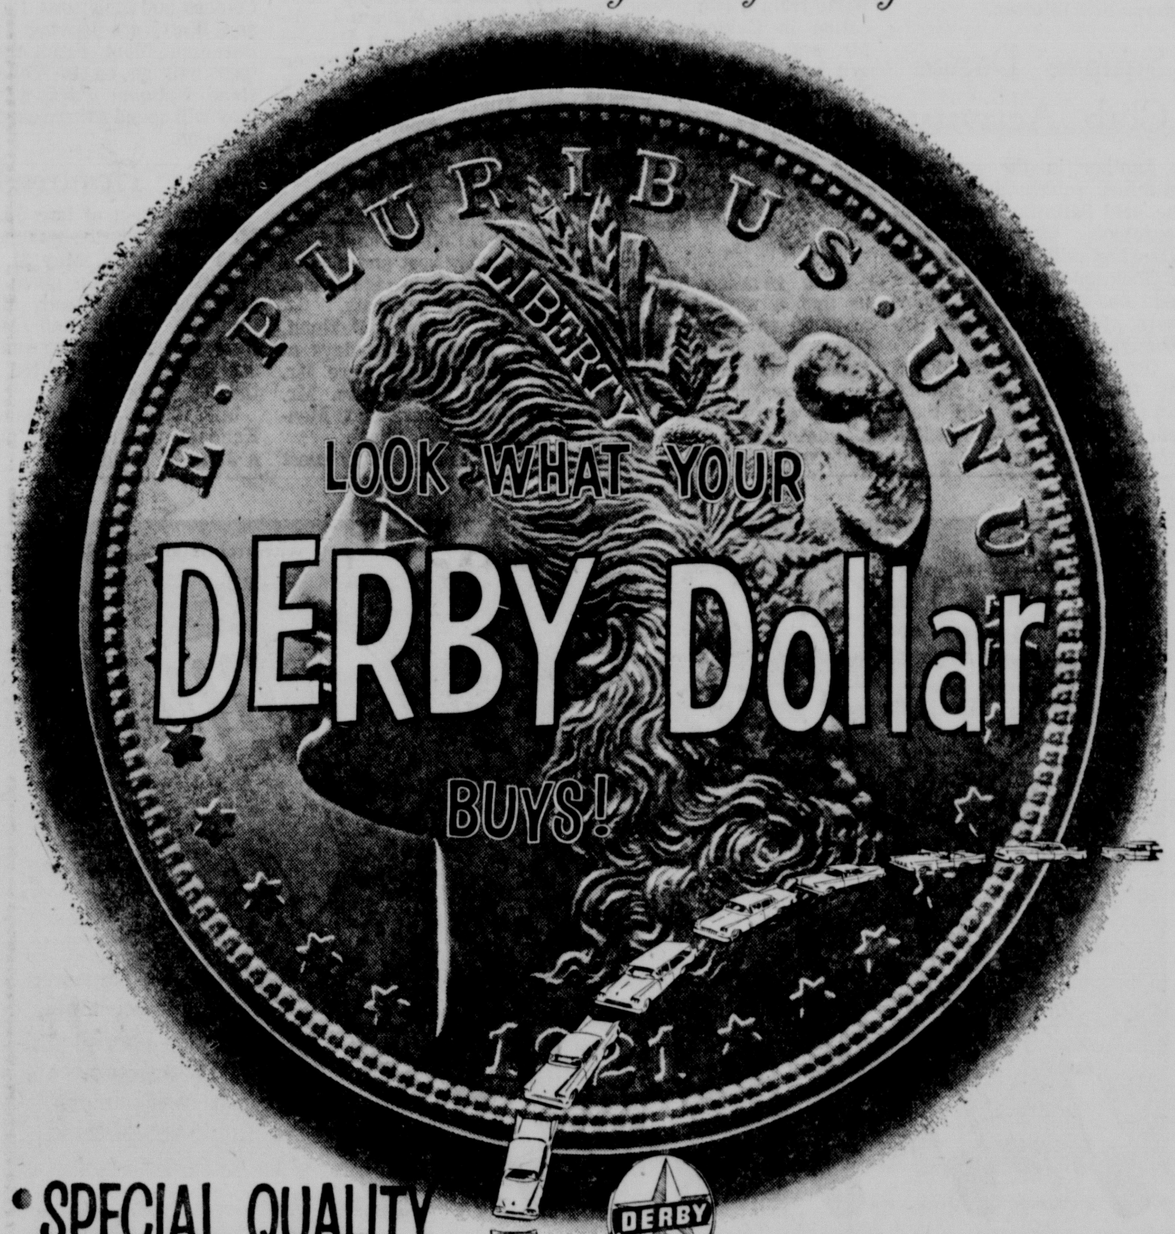
Don't Fret About the High Cost of Driving



• SPECIAL QUALITY

No matter where you buy, you can't find better gasoline. Derby is engineered, from the finest crude, to match the industry's highest specifications. Every dollar you invest in Derby Gasoline gives you full value in power and economy . . . regardless of make, model or year of the car you drive.

• SPECIAL SERVICE

There's a lot more to car maintenance than simply filling the tank. Your Derby dealer knows the value of the "ounce of prevention", and his care can save you money. He'll service your battery, your radiator, your tires and your crankcase as though they belonged to him . . . and you'll never leave with a dirty windshield.

Bride On Thursday Evening

MRS. DARRELL DeLONG

Cathedral candles, gladioli and carnations introduced an all white motif for the wedding of Miss Patricia Jean Alvord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Alvord, and Darrell DeLong of Clarksville, Ark., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. DeLong of Mayville, N.D., which took place on Thursday evening, June 4, in the chapel of Westminster Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Calvin Ukema solemnized the 8 o'clock service, and Miss Josephine Waddell played the wedding music. Mrs. LeRoy Butherus (Diane Knotek) was the vocal soloist.

The attendants, including Miss Marjorie Rusch of Superior, Wis., the maid of honor; and bridesmaids Mrs. David Harris, Miss Marilyn Miller, and Miss Marilyn Wilhelms of San Francisco, wore alike frocks of ice-blue silk organza. Each carried a bouquet of blue and white feathered carnations. Miss Sharon Johnson and Miss Anne Hermes lighted the candles.

Joe Bannister of Mayville, N.D., served as best man, and the ushers were Haakon Andreason, Clifford Peterson and Paul Barcenas, all of Perham, Minn.

The bridal gown was fashioned of peau de soie and reembroidered Alencon lace. Deep scallops framed the portrait neckline of the elongated lace bodice, designed with elbow-length sleeves, and wide box-plate created the voluminous skirt which drifted into a chapel train. A half-hat of lace and pearls held in place her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the reception in the church parlors Mr. De Long and his bride left for Nashville, Tenn., where they will work on their doctorates at Peabody College this summer under grants from the Rockefeller Foundation. In the fall they will return to College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Ark., where both are members of the faculty.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and received her Masters degree from Eastman School of Music where she was a graduate assistant. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Mr. DeLong was graduated from Minot State Teachers College, Minot, N.D., and received his Masters degree from the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks.

Town Talk

—No time for idle chatter this morning—We have news and we must be about its telling—

—Last autumn, when "Dads" were guests of honor on sorority row a tradition began at the Kappa Alpha Theta house—It was suggested that the Theta seniors and their dads would dine together the evening preceding commencement. The motion carried enthusiastically, but later was amended to also include the mothers.

So, this evening at the Steak House, Theta seniors and their parents will hold the now traditional dinner—doubtless the last time the graduating seniors will be together for some time.

—Arriving in town were Mrs. Wayne Swalley and her young daughter, Deborah Mae, who have come from St. Louis to spend two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Swalley's father, John Curtiss. Mrs. Swalley will be remembered as the former Ruth Ann Curtiss, Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska.

—Now for the brides—Today Miss Fran Jensen, whose marriage to Arthur J. Weaver, III, will be solemnized on June 18, will be paid prenuptial courtesy when Mrs. Kent Morgan is a luncheon hostess at the University Club. The guest eightsome will include Pi Beta Phi seniors, and the soon-to-be bride will be presented with a hostess gift.

Mention of Miss Jensen and Mr. Weaver reminds us that the potential bridegroom will not be coming from Chicago, where he is a student at Northwestern University School of Medicine, until a few days before the wedding. Mr. Weaver, by the way, has just been initiated into a medical honorary, Pi Kappa Epsilon.

—This morning Miss Janet Nelson of St. Paul, Minn., whose marriage to Charles Edgar Haupt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Haupt of Lincoln will take place on June 13 at St. Anthony Park Congregational Church in St. Paul, is announcing the members of the bridal entourage.

Miss Nelson has chosen Miss Gail Sporley as her maid of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Nancy Batsman of Austin, Minn. The three bridesmatrons include Mrs. James Miller (Patty Ellis) of Almogordo, N. Mex.; Mrs. Samuel T. Haupt of Minneapolis, and Mrs. William Teeter. Honorary bridesmaids are Mrs. Erwin Danielson of Amery, Wis., sister of the bride, and Miss Nancy Wolle of Carrington, N.D., Miss Nelson's nieces, Gail and Lisa Danielson, will be the flower girls.

Samuel T. Haupt of Minneapolis will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will include William Campbell, Joseph Carter, both of Lincoln; Erwin Danielson, Erwin, Minn.; Richard Duling, Minneapolis, and Robert McBride and William Aldrich, both of Chicago.

Mr. Haupt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Haupt will go to St. Paul in time for the prenuptial dinner for which the bride-elect's parents, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Joseph E. Nelson will be host and hostess on Friday evening, June 12, at the Minneapolis Athletic Club.

Ooh La La! A Parisian Diversion

It was "Summertime in Paris" at Cotner Terrace on Thursday afternoon, June 4, when the 98th Bomb Wing, 343rd Squadron officers wives entertained at a coffee.

Pictured in costume amid red and white checkered table cloths at a Parisian sidewalk cafe are the hostesses (left to right) Mrs. Donald Nisbett, Mrs. Theodore Beams, Mrs. Milton Melland and Mrs. John R. Reeder. Not pictured is Mrs. Jerry Danko.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Nellie Casement, formerly of Lincoln and Valparaiso, to Dennis J. Cox of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

The ceremony took place on Wednesday, June 3, in Idaho Falls.

Mr. Cox and his bride will reside in Idaho Falls until late autumn when they will move to California.

Square Dance Club Activity

Another in the series of summer square dances will be held Saturday evening at Antelope Park pavilion. Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock, and serving as hosts and hostesses will be members of the Swing'em In Gingham Club.

On Sunday, the members of the Joymakers Square Dance Club will hold their annual picnic in the shelter house at Antelope Park.

IN SUBURBIA

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Out-of-town guests who will be arriving in Hollingsworth Heights Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Felton are Mr. Felton's sister and her children, Mrs. D. H. Walker and her sons, David, Craig, and Bradley of Duluth, Minn. The Walkers will be in Lincoln for one week.

Recently returning to their home from a two weeks' vacation in California were Mr. and Mrs. George Howard and their son, George. The Howards visited friends and relatives in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and visited Mr. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Howard in San Jose. En route home they spent some time in Las Vegas.

More vacation news tells us that a week from today Miss Susan Hansen, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J. R. Hansen, who is 16 years old, will leave for Los Angeles, Calif., where she will spend a month as a guest of her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hunt.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arth recently returned from a trip to Tulsa, Okla., where they visited Mrs. Arth's mother, Mrs. John H. Jameson. The Arths were gone for about 10 days.

SOUTH HILLS

Spending Memorial Day in Indianapolis, Ind., where they attended the auto races were Lt. Col. William T. Minor and Earl Dean Dawson of Denver, Colo. Mr. Dawson arrived in Lincoln a week ago Thursday and returned to his home from Indianapolis.

FIENE HEIGHTS

It sounds as if Mr. and Mrs. Bob Colborn have been a very busy host and hostess recently so let's take a look and meet their guests.

Guests from Oakland, Calif., spending ten days at the Colborn home were Mr. and Mrs. John Peters. Mr. and Mrs. Peters left Monday for Seattle, Wash.

And a Memorial Day guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colborn was Mrs. Colborn's mother, Mrs. L. B. Davison of Bassett.

Miss Melissa Colborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Colborn, of Norris, Tenn., who is 13 years old, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Colborn. Miss Colborn will return to her home on Monday.

Still more news from the Colborn family tells us that on Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Colborn and their sons, Craig and Scott, are leaving for Bozeman, Mont. From there they will go on to Yellowstone National Park where they will spend a three week's vacation.

Was Honored

A bride-elect of late June, Miss Beth Eisele, was honored on Sunday, May 31, at a dessert-luncheon given by Mrs. David B. Eisele, Mrs. Kent D. Baker and Mrs. Benjamin F. Laws. Twenty-six guests were invited to the Eisele home

Miss Eisele and her fiance, Kenneth G. Rummell, plan a June 27 wedding.

Dear Abby . . .

The Right Idea!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The other day several ladies and myself got together for coffee. Naturally we were discussing our children. One lady said her husband took their 17-year-old boy aside and told him, "If you want to go all the way with a girl, come to me first and I will see to it that you know everything you need to know." I was so shocked I couldn't say a word. Most of the ladies thought it was the right thing to do. To me, however, it was the same as telling his son it was all right. My sons are pre-school so this problem will not be mine for a long time yet, but I'd like the opinion of some of your readers if you care to print this. I am not very up to date on these things as I am only 23.

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: This father is wise. He is letting his son know that he can come to him with any problem. Do not assume the father will approve his son's intentions. What the boy "needs to know" could be a long lecture on SELF-CONTROL.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old girl and I have a very good friend. I just love her, but when we go to a show on Saturday and her mother takes us home she just says, "See you." When I call her and she isn't home, I always say, "Thank you and goodbye." My mother says when she calls me and I am not home she just hangs up. How can I help her with her manners? Thank you.

BETSY

DEAR BETSY: If you love her—teach her, but do it in a friendly way, so that she will know you want to help her—not merely find fault with her.

DEAR ABBY: I have the nicest husband in the world. He tells me every day he loves me. He even tells me I am beautiful although I know I am not. But my trouble is that he won't call my mother "Mom." If he wants her attention he says, "Hey!" Abby, it embarrasses me so much when all my sisters and brothers are around and their mates call my mother "Mom." I've called his mother "Mom" since the day we were married. How can I get my stubborn husband to do the same for me? It would mean so much.

HURT

DEAR HURT: No one should be called "Hey" but there are some people who simply cannot bring themselves to call anyone but their own mothers "Mom." Overlook it.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

8 Hospitalized In Highway Crashes

. . . 7 Hurt As Station Wagon, Pickup Collide

Holdrege, Neb. (AP)—Eight persons were hospitalized in Holdrege Thursday as the result of two separate highway crashes.

Seven persons were taken to the hospital after a station wagon and a pickup truck collided one mile south of Holdrege on U. S. 183.

In the station wagon were Rex Jones, 27; his wife, Jean; 3 of their daughters, aged 6 and 4 years and 21 months; and Roger Bundy about 24. Jones and Bundy are soldiers stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and were en route to Montana on furlough.

Ernest O. Linner, 66, Holdrege farmer, driver of the truck, suffered concussion and lacerations.

Bundy was reported in fair condition Thursday with fractured ribs, internal injuries, collapsed and perforated lungs. The oldest Jones girl suffered a skull fracture and a fractured arm. The second daughter suffered a concussion and the baby had only minor injuries. Jones suffered a back injury and his wife a skull fracture, chest injuries and had severe hemorrhaging.

Omahans Injured

The other collision occurred near Atlanta on U.S. 6-34, involving an automobile and a dump truck pulling a platform trailer.

Luther C. Pierce of Grand Island, driver of the truck, had minor injuries. Charles J. Rador, 61, of Omaha, driver of the car suffered a scalp wound and his sister, Mrs. Mamie Turner, 70, Omaha, had chest injuries, bruises, and fractures of the ankle and ribs.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol said the car apparently was turning off the road to a picnic area.

Mrs. Turner was reported in satisfactory condition Thursday.

Eppley Estate Will Bring Douglas County $245,648

Omaha (AP) — Douglas County will collect $245,648 in inheritance taxes on the estate of hotel millionair Eugene C. Eppley, County Judge Robert E. Troyer said Thursday.

This is the largest inheritance tax ever levied here, Judge Troyer said.

The total amount of 68 bequests in the will amounted to $1,975,964.82.

The largest single request is to a distant relative, Donald Maclean of Hillsborough, Calif., president of the California-Hawaiian Sugar Co., San Francisco. He is to receive $272,549.55.

David Bernabo, Jacob Reifschneider and Lloyd N. Prince, longtime hotel business associates of Eppley, are to receive $179,707.31, $240,949.35, and $179,713.40 respectively.

The only other relative besides Maclean named in the will was a cousin Beverly J. Blair. Her bequest amounts to $26,468.09.

The Culver Educational Foundation is named for $88,252.54.

Legal action seeking to break the will has been taken to the State Supreme Court by persons claiming to be relatives of Eppley.

CHIEFS NIP SIOUX CITY, 14-13

Winning Run Walked Home; Des Moines Is Here Tonight

By Don Bryant

Rallies were more frequent at Sherman Field Thursday night than at Notre Dame during Knute Rockne Week.

Fortunately, the Lincoln Chiefs made the last one to pull out another bottom-of-the-9th victory over the Sioux City Soos, this time by the monstrous score of 14-13.

Only 280 fans were on hand, but they never had to wait long to see some sort of action.

All told there were 34 hits—17 by each team—including 3 Sioux City doubles and a homer and 4 Lincoln doubles and a home run.

The victory put the Chiefs a half game ahead of Des Moines in the hot Three-I for a crucial series with the Demons which opens tonight League race and set the stage at Sherman Field.

Skipper Ira Hutchinson has nominated Ron Teunis (3-1) to pitch for the Chiefs who will be trying to pad their first place margin. Game time is 8 p.m., and it will be Capital City Night. General admission seats will be reduced to 90c, bleacher seats to 75c.

Thursday's bizarre contest saw the Chiefs battle uphill most of the evening. They tied it 1-1 in the first, then came through with 6 runs in the third—after the Soos had moved out 9-2—to cut the gap to a mere run.

By the bottom of the 8th Sioux City had a 12-9 margin and back came the Chiefs to tie it up in the home half on Jim Lynn's 2-run double.

Then the Soos went out 13-12 in the top of the 9th, but the league leaders wouldn't die. Chuck Lehman's walk, singles by Don Bacon and Lynn tied it.

Deacon Jones was issued an intentional walk to load the bases and the Chiefs wrapped it up when Gene Martin drew a walk from Don Woerner, third Soo pitcher.

The win went to Ron Bloodworth, Lincoln's third pitcher who worked the final 2 frames.

Smoke Signals . . . Martin's 3-run homer was the big blow in the 6-run Lincoln third . . . Jim Lehman got 4 hits in 4 trips and scored 4 times . . . Bacon and Lynn got 3 hits . . . Lynn wound up with 5 RBIs . . . Tony Cannizzo homered for the Soos in the 7th . . . No. 2 Lincoln pitcher, Dick Idzkowski, making his first appearance, was touched for 8 hits and 5 runs but struck out 10 Soos . . . General Manager Rog Bottorff rewarded the 280 faithful by offering free coffee to all hands in the 8th inning . . . Lincoln had only 6 assists, while the Soos had 18 . . .The Soos squeezed across a run in the 7th . . . . Lincoln had a first-inning rally spoiled when Bacon was caught off third in a rundown and Lynn was picked off first.

'Pressing' Causing Ashburn's Slump, Says Phil's Bat King

Philadelphia (AP)—Just about everybody who follows baseball, including Richie Ashburn's two oldest daughters, wants to know why last year's National League batting champion isn't hitting.

The Philadelphia Phillies centerfielder offers some answers.

"I've been pressing for one thing," Ashburn explained Thursday. "I think that's the primary reason for my slump.

"I can't wait for a good pitch. I've been swinging at a lot of bad balls. You know how it is when you're pressing and get too anxious, not only in baseball but in anything.

"You're tight up there, pushing and driving—worrying too much. Then, too, I don't think I'm as lucky as I was last year."

Manager Eddie Sawyer points out the 12-year veteran isn't meeting the ball well and would have to battle his way out of the slump.

"There's no doubt about what he (Sawyer) said, "Richie commented.

"I've got to hit the ball solid to get hits and my timing has been off. But I haven't lost confidence even though I've been discouraged at times. I'm just going to stay in there and keep battling all the time."

The 32-year-old Ashburn won the National League batting title in 1958, with a .350 average over Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants. Thus far he's hitting under .250.

The Tilden, Neb., native had gone 0 for 14 in the Phillies last 3 road games. However, when the club opened a long home stand Wednesday night with a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs, he collected 3 hits and scored two runs.

"But I'm not getting excited about that, not yet," he said. "There were other times when I went into slumps and thought I was coming right out of them but didn't. Several times this year previously I thought I was coming out of it. I'll make no immediate predictions."

Asked if he had any personal problems that might be affecting him, Richie smiled and said:

"I don't have a worry in the world except my slump."

Was it possible that he's slowing up?

"I don't think a lack of speed is causing me to lose hits. And my physical condition is real good."

U.S.-British Meet

Littler's 65 Takes Lead

Baltimore (AP) — Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., led a gang of par busters making the new Pine Ridge Golf Course look easy Thursday by taking only 65 strokes in the first round of the Eastern Open.

Littler's score was 7 strokes under the par set for the 6,820-yard layout.

The grass growth was so new and irregular that the 72-hole tournament will be played under winter rules. This permits players to move the ball 6 inches at their choice and tee it up all the way to the greens.

Torgy's Homer Bears Baltimore, 6-5

Chicago (AP)—Earl Torgeson's solo homer with two out in the 17th inning swept the Chicago White Sox into the American League lead Thursday with a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Torgeson's smash which ended the 4 hour and 37 minute contest came off Jerry Walker, 3rd Baltimore pitcher, who entered the game in the 12th.

The triumph moved Chicago into first place with a 27-21 record and a .563 percentage, while idle Cleveland dropped into second place with 25-20 for .556.

Victory in this longest game of the major league season was credited to the 6th White Sox pitcher, Bob Shaw, who entered the game at the start of the 13th.

Shaw had been preceded by Dick Donovan, the starter, Barry Latman, Gerry Staley, Rodolfo Arias and Turk Lown.

Baltimore moved ahead 5-4 in the top of the 13th on Chico Carrasquel's single, a sacrifice and Albie Pearson's single, but the Sox evened it up in the bottom of that frame with an unearned run. A wild peg by Willie Miranda produced the run and the Sox failed to exploit a bases-loaded situation with one out.

The game was deadlocked at 4-4 from the 8th when Larry Doby singled across one run off Billy Loes, second of 3 Baltimore pitchers. Loes took over in the 7th from starter Jack Harshman, who was still trying for his first victory against 6 defeats.

Harshman was off to a shaky start as the White Sox scored a pair in the first inning on a hit batsman, an error and singles by Sherm Lollar and Doby.

Here We Go Again

A second All Star Baseball game is practically assured, say the wire services.

Hardly surprising, say I, considering the idiocies which are becoming the rule rather than the exception in our grand old game known.

Baseball needs another All Star game like Dinah Shore needs laryngitis.

Under the guise of letting the good folks on the West Coast get a look at American League players, we hear that the second All Star game is vital to the national pastime. Hogwash, that is.

Why not play it at Sherman Field so "midwesterners" could see players from both leagues. Silly? Of course. Same goes for running a second Kentucky Derby in Las Vegas because the natives there need a change from watching apples, pears and cherries.

Hawaiians might get a kick out of second Indianapolis 500, too. And how about a re-run of the Gold Cup race on Lake of the Ozarks.

Face it, gang. Los Angeles Coliseum is a gold mine, particularly if the Dodgers aren't the main attraction. The benefit (very worthwhile, too) for Roy Campanella proved that.

Major leaguers—from the Comish down through owners, players and bat boys — see a second All Star game this year for what it is, a fine chance to get another carload of bricks for easy street.

Sure, to keep peace in the family, some money will be earmarked for the "minor leagues and youth programs."

But you can bet quite a bit of consideration will be given to the players' pension fund.

One All Star game is fine, an interesting interlude during the mid-summer wars. One is sufficient, too. The second one smacks of just a wee-bit of money-grabbing.

This is just another example of major league baseball's mushrooming habit of over-doing a good thing (someone mention TV?)

Giants' Cepeda Belts Burdette, Braves, 11-5

Milwaukee (AP) — Orlando Cepeda walloped a pair of homers and drove in 7 runs Thursday as the San Francisco Giants came from behind and beat Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette for the first time in 5 years with an 11-5 victory over the Braves.

Burdette, now 8-4 for the season, had taken 13 in a row from the Giants since Sept. 16, 1954.

With the break-through against Burdette, the Giants once again closed within 2½ games of the National League leading Braves with a split in the 4-game series.

Cepeda's big bat, sending his 11th and 12th homers out of the park—including the first ever to clear County Stadium's left field bleachers, backed up a 6-hit pitching chore by Mike McCormick and relievers Gordon Jones and Stu Miller.

Jones, working just one inning, was the winner for a 3-2 record. But it was Miller, beaten as a starter Tuesday, who blanked the Braves on 3 hits over the last 5 innings for the save.

Stan Ties Mark, But Bucs Win, 9-3

Pittsburgh (AP)—Stan Musial, veteran St. Louis Cardinal, tied a National League record with his 651st double Thursday, but it wasn't enough to prevent the Pittsburgh Pirates from whipping the Cardinals 9-3.

Musial's blast came in the 7th inning off pitcher Ron Kline. The hurler then retired the next 3 batters and left Musial stranded on the basepaths.

The Pirates clubbed 5 St. Louis pitchers in a hitting attack that included Bill Virdon's 3rd home run of the season, doubles by Bob Skinner and Dick Groat, a triple by Bill Mazeroski.

The victory gave the 3rd place Pirates a sweep of the 8-game series with the Cards.

Musial's double in no way threatened to change the course of the game. But it gave him enough doubles to tie the National League record set by the late great Honus Wagner, who played for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The 651 doubles are only 3rd in major league records. Tris Speaker a former American Leaguer set the record with 793 doubles in his career. Ty Cobb, also an American Leaguer hit 724 doubles during his career.

Cubs Nip Phils In 10 Innings, 3-2

Philadelphia (AP) — The Chicago Cubs parlayed a pair of homers by Walt Moryn and Sam Taylor, a 10th inning triple by George Altman and a sacrifice fly into a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night at Connie Mack Stadium.

Taylor's homer, his 3rd of the season, put the Cubs ahead in the 6th inning, and was only the second hit given up by starter and loser Gene Conley. The Phils went ahead 2-1 in the 7th, and Moryn's roundtripper, a scoreboard shot which wasn't playable until he was most of the way around the bases, evened the score in the Cubs' 8th.

After Moryn popped out in the 10th, Altman sent his triple sizzling down the right field foul line, scoring on Taylor's fly for the decisive run.

The Phils got only 4 hits until the 7th, while the Cubs were held to two by Conley.

In the 7th, Willie Jones flied out and Wally Post singled to left. Cal Sawatski scored when Dave Philley tripled off the left field scoreboard to put the Phils ahead.

Reds' Nuxhall Stops Dodgers

Cincinnati (AP) — Veteran southpaw Joe Nuxhall lost his grip briefly in the 7th inning, but finished up his second complete victory of the season Thursday night, pitching Cincinnati's Reds to a 5-3 victory over Los Angeles.

Nuxhall had a 3-hitter going until the Dodgers started hitting his stuff in the 7th. But he bore down and choked off the rally.

The Dodgers got only one hit from him thereafter. He walked only one Dodger and fanned two.

Cincinnati batters touched up Los Angeles pitching for only 8 hits, too, but put them to better use.

'Nobody Honest Has A Chance'

. . . Says Leonard

Los Angeles (AP) — "With guys like this in boxing, nobody who is honest has a chance," says a brutally beaten fight promoter who complained that mobsters were demanding part of welterweight champion Don Jordan's contract.

Hoodlums ambushed Jackie Leonard Wednesday night while he was putting his car in his garage. They slugged and kicked him unconscious.

Leonard, in serious condition with a concussion and partial paralysis of the right side, blamed organized crime for his beating. He said:

"Knowing Frankie Carbo and what he is, this is just the sort of operation he would be connected with . . . the guys who gave it to me are typical. They have no guts."

Leonard testified before the state athletic commission two weeks ago that underworld boxing czar Carbo and Philadelphia fight figure Frank (Blinky) Palermo had tried to muscle in on Jordan's contract.

Before the Jordan-Virgil Akins title fight which Leonard promoted at the Hollywood Legion Stadium last December, Leonard said Palermo told him:

"We're in for a half of Jordan's contract."

Leonard was assigned police guards after telephone threats. But he went out for cigars and a newspaper without notifying his bodyguards.

"When I returned I pulled into the garage which faces on an alley," Leonard said from his hospital bed. "I got out of the car and as I left the garage I was struck from behind . . . .

"I think there were two men and I believe I was hit with a sap (blackjack) . . . I fell down near some chlorine bottles we use in our pool. One of the guys hit me over the head with one of the bottles.

"Then they started kicking me. I yelled and one of the guys said, 'Let's go, let's get out of here,' and they ran."

gers 14-3 for their 6th triumph in 7 starts.

The stocky southpaw helped his own cause with a 6th inning home run after his teammates bombed Jim Bunning for 7 runs in the first 3 innings. Ford also drove across New York's final two runs with a 9th inning double.

He scattered 7 hits and struck out 6, registering his 6th victory against 3 losses.

Sox Stop KC Skein At 5 Straight, 5-2

Kansas City (AP) — Boston stopped Kansas City's winning streak at 5 games Thursday as Jerry Casale pitched the Red Sox to a 5-2 decision.

Casale held the A's to 7 hits and only Joe DeMaestri's 7th inning solo homer and Jerry Lumpe's triple in the 4th went for extra bases.

The victory was Casale's 3rd in his 7 pitching decisions. Rip Coleman, the Athletics' starting pitcher, took the loss, his 4th against a single victory.

Johansson Case Decision Reserved

New York (AP) — A Federal Court reserved decision Thursday on a move by California contender Eddie Machen to block the heavyweight title fight June 25 between Champion Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Machen, of Redding, Calif., contended he had been offered a return bout with Johansson before he was knocked out by the Swedish heavyweight last Sept. 14.

Judge Irving Kaufman held a 4-day hearing on the case without a jury.

Machen said Edwin Ahlquist, promoter of the Johansson-Machen fight in Goteborg, Sweden, had signed a return bout agreement the day before the fight.

Ahlquist acknowledged that he had signed the paper. He said on the stand Thursday he had done so under duress and without the consent of Johansson.

The promoter said Machen's manager, Sid Flaherty, came to him on the day before the bout and threatened not to go through with the fight unless the agreement was signed.

Ahlquist said he told Flaherty that he would be ruined if the bout was canceled. He said he had paid a $20,000 guarantee and had invested more than $100,000 in expenses.

"Did Johansson or any member whatsoever authorize you to sign a paper on Sept. 13," Ahlquist was asked.

"He did not," the promoter replied.

Ahlquist said Johansson was managed by his father, Jens, and that his own role with the fighter was only that of promoter. He said he had promoted 21 fights involving Johannson but had received only the promoter's cut except on one occasion.

After Johansson won the European heavyweight crown, Ahlquist said, the fighter insisted on giving him a $1,600 bonus.

Host Of Nebraska College Stars Will Vie In NAIA Meeting Today

By Paul LeBar

Nebraska, blessed with some of its all-time best small college track talent, is expected to help make the 8th annual National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) track and field championships a wide-open affair at Sioux Falls, S.D. today and tomorrow.

The two-day night meet commencing at 6:30 each evening will see a new champion crowned in the wake of a 3-year tenure by Occidental College of Los Angeles, Calif., and a host of some of the nation's top records are expected to fall before the onslaught of 340 athletes.

Athletes Rank High

None of the Nebraska contingent is expected to press for the title, but several Nebraska College Conference competitors rank high on the NAIA season charts.

Those given best chances of denting the scoring column include shot putter Francis Hircock, half-miler Martin Mason and miler Larry Snell of Kearney State; sprinter Virgil Meyer of Chadron State; distance man Merle McGee of Wayne State and discus thrower Dave Williams of Hastings College.

MEYER . . . NCC's best.

Hircock, with a best putt of 51 feet 11½ inches, ranks among the top 10 entries in that event. Mason, whose 1:51.8 mark in the 880 two weeks ago tied the current NAIA mark, is not far behind the 1:51.1 reported for Bob Pullig of Howard Payne and the 1:51.2 recorded by Nelson.

Snell Is Third

Snell's mile time of 4:14.7 is 3rd on the charts. Meyer's wind-aided :09.5 in the 100 yard dash gives the Chadronite a tie for second, while Williams' 158-7½ fling of the discus also ranks second to the 159-5½ performance reported for Bill Hook of Humboldt State, Calif.

Entering the meet from Nebraska Wesleyan University are hurdler Larry Bartels, half-miler Ken Govaerts and discus thrower Larry Cook.

Game Chief Opposed To Refunding Stamps

State Game Commission Chief Mel Steen spoke out Thursday against refunding recreation area use stamps purchased so far this year.

Steen said refunding the cost of the $1 stickers would cost more than the stamps would bring in this year.

He said the Commission supports repeal of the use stamp but not with the emergency clause. The clause would put the bill, LB1, into law immediately upon the signature of the governor.

Steen said the emergency clause and the refund provision amendments make the bill "inequitable and probably unworkable."

Steen stressed he was in favor of repeal of the use stamp. Wednesday, when the refund provision was added to the bill, some senators took the view that Steen was trying to keep the stamp in effect.

Look at the world through a GOLD-COLORED glass to find finest quality in Beer!

You'll never again doubt there's a real difference in beers, if you'll do just this: Pour yourself a glass of COUNTRY CLUB Pilsener. Hold it to the light. Compare its rich, golden, true-beer color with the color of any other beer you can buy! It's like the difference between gold and straw.

But don't test the color just for its own sake! In that richer, golden color of COUNTRY CLUB you'll see why you'll find COUNTRY CLUB so robustly satisfying in flavor—so creamy-good in body—so cooling and clean in your throat. Compare that COUNTRY CLUB color!—then—

Give COUNTRY CLUB Pilsener Beer These Other Easy Tests

		Country Club Pilsener	The Beer you've been drinking
rich flavor	A traditional old world brew taste, with the delicate aroma of hops—yet no objectionable bite or tang. Country Club is real beer, as beer should be.	✓	?
full body and head	Country Club Pilsener is brewed with more and better quality malt than in general use today. This old original formula of Michael Karl Goetz gives a rich, creamy head that lasts and lasts. It laces the glass all the way down . . . as good beer traditionally should.	✓	?
make the PENCIL TEST	Ask your bartender to draw a glass of Country Club Pilsener. When the head of foam satisfies you, place an unsharpened pencil vertically in the center of glass. Amazing! Note the pencil stands straight—proof of Country Club's rich, creamy head, as compared with other beers. Try it . . . you'll sell yourself!	✓	?

School Integration Suit Enters Atlanta Court Today

Atlanta (AP) — The first major attack on racial segregation in Georgia public schools will open in U.S. District Court Friday.

The suit, filed several years ago by 10 Negro parents, seeks to knock out segregation in Atlanta public schools, the state's largest school system.

It will be heard without a jury by Judges Frank A. Hooper and Boyd Sloan, each of whom has ruled against segregation in recent cases involving Atlanta city buses and the Georgia State College for Business Administration.

Several factors indicate that a quick ruling is possible. But a decision for the plaintiffs would not necessarily mean immediate admission of Negroes to Atlanta's all-white schools.

Initial Step

The parents of 27 Negro pupils merely seek an injunction to prevent the Atlanta Board of Education from operating schools on a racially segregated basis. It would then be up to Negroes to seek admission to specific schools, thus prompting further litigation.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of the New York legal staff of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, and local NAACP attorneys are handling the case for the Negroes.

The state of Georgia is not directly involved in the case, but the city of Atlanta has retained B. D. Murphy who has been a special assistant attorney general representing the state in all college segregation cases.

Lock-Out Laws

Georgia has a number of laws requiring closing of public schools to prevent integration. One passed by the 1959 legislature authorizes the closing of any school ordered to integrate, as well as schools from which the integrating pupils would come.

The Atlanta schools have an enrollment of more than 100,000 including approximately 70,000 white pupils and 31,000 Negroes.

Although the city school system is resisting the suit, Mayor William B. Hartsfield and other leaders have argued that Atlanta voters should have the right to decide between integration and closed schools.

5 Named To Pick NF Scholarship Winners In State

Five Nebraska health leaders have been named members of the professional committee that will select the state's 5 winners of the National Foundation's 1959 health scholarships.

Members of the committee include Dr. G. P. Charlton of Hastings; Mrs. Evelyn C. Brown, medical social worker, V. A. Hospital; Miss Zelda Nelson, executive director and counselor, Nebraska State League of Nursing; H. Dwyer Dundon, occupational therapist, Nebraska Psychiatric Institute; and Harry R. Dinnel Jr., physical therapist, Regional Respiratory and Rehabilitation Center, St. Joseph's Hospital, all of Omaha.

The 5 Nebraska students who will be chosen by the committee this summer will be the first group from the state to receive the new health scholarships supported by the March of Dime funds.

The scholarships, which pay $500 a year or $2,000 for 4 years, are being offered to assist in the recruitment of capable young leaders to meet shortages in the fields of medicine, nursing, physical therapy, medical social work, and occupational therapy.

Administration Opposes Food Stamp Plan

Washington (AP) — The administration Thursday opposed a series of bills to set up food stamp and other direct food assistance programs for needy families.

Clarence L. Miller, assistant secretary of agriculture, told a Senate agriculture subcommittee the broadest of these—sponsored by Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn)—would cost about $2½ billion a year.

A food stamp plan, Miller said, would have no direct effect upon the major surplus problems—corn, cotton and wheat.

Miller said operation of welfare programs is a state and local responsibility.

Woman 'Fairly Good' After Crash

Mrs. Jacob Kahm, 35, of 2150 So. 9th was in "fairly good" condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital from injuries suffered in a two-car, right angle collision at 13th and Van Dorn Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Kahm, who suffered scalp injuries, multiple cuts and bruises and possible chest injuries, was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Donald Miller, 68, of 2636 Woodscrest.

The Miller auto came to rest on a lawn at the northwest corner of intersection, police said. Mrs. Kahn was thrown from the car by the impact.

Glenn E. Cekal, 31, of apartment D, 1420 C, was driving the other auto. Mrs. Miller complained of minor injuries, police said, but was not taken to a hospital.

Probe Planned

Washington (AP) — Congress will investigate officers who hang up their uniforms and go to work for private firms dealing with the government.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) of the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee said that group will prepare legislation to deal with any dangers to the public interest resulting from such a change of roles by high ranking retired military officers or civilian officials.

Sands Elected South Street Temple Head

Stanley Sands has been elected president of the South Street Temple.

Other new officers are Robert Simon, vice president; Gertrude Gugenheim, secretary; Irwin Dubinsky, financial secretary, and William Gold II, treasurer.

Board of Trustees members are Myron Weil, Dr. Harold Abel, Iwin Dubinsky, Sam Davidson, Mrs. Edward Gugenheim and Hymen Rosenberg.

Farmers Sentenced

Berlin (AP) — Information Bureau West, an intelligence agency reporting from agents behind the Iron Curtain, says Red East Germany has sentenced 18 farmers and agricultural officials to prison for crop sabotage. The sentences, in the Wismar area, ranged up to 6 years for shortages in potato and grain seeds, the Bureau said.

Senators Sound Death Knell On Proposals For Minimum Wage, Class 3 Teacher Tenure

By Betty Person

The Legislature was in a killing mood Thursday afternoon as it sounded the death knell on two bills which would have established a minimum wage law in Nebraska and extended teacher tenure to Class 3 school districts (districts of 1,000 to 50,000 population).

The minimum wage bill, LB22, introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, proposed a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour straight time for employes in businesses where there were more than 20 employes.

Sen. John Cooper of Humboldt made the kill motion which was carried on a 26-11 vote.

'Serious Effect'

Cooper argued the bill would have a "serious effect on small businesses and on farmers" and was one which Nebraska "would be better off to do without."

Carpenter said it was "obvious" that if he could "get my foot in the door this time, I would attempt to have the salaries raised in the future."

He suggested that failure to approve the "mild" minimum wage law proposed in LB22, could "bring on something more extreme through the petition method which would be much more restrictive and with a much higher rate of pay."

LB306 Gets Ax

Immediately after killing LB22, the lawmakers applied the ax to LB306, the teacher tenure proposal.

Again Sen. Cooper offered the motion to kill the bill which was carried on a 25-9 vote.

The Humboldt senator said tenure (which is in effect in Lincoln and Omaha school districts) could work a definite hardship in smaller communities.

Orme Defends Tenure

Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, who previously taught in the Lincoln school system, argued that tenure was a tremendous advantage to teachers giving them a feeling of security necessary to bring them to the top of their capabilities.

She told the lawmakers, "I assure you it is possible under many reasons to replace a teacher if it is necessary even if there is tenure."

The bill provided that if a teacher successfully passed a 3-year probationary period, he would become a permanent teacher and be permitted to stay indefinitely unless the contract were terminated through incompetence, immorality or some other rather serious charge.

Technical Aid Approved For Two Watersheds

Applications for technical aid for the Cub Creek Watershed in Gage and Jefferson Counties, and the Upper Big Nemaha Watershed in Johnson, Otoe, Gage and Lancaster Counties were approved Thursday.

A third application by the Gering Valley Watershed in Scotts Bluff County was tabled until a preliminary field review is received by the Soil Conservation System.

Taking the action was the State Soil and Water Conservation Committee.

Committee Hearing

All 3 groups appeared before the committee Thursday seeking approval of their applications and a priority for planning and technical aid.

Priorities for technical and planning aid were set for 3 other watersheds. The SCS can move ahead with definite plans once priorities are set.

3 Get Priority

Placed on priority were the Big Indian Watershed in Gage and Jefferson Counties; Cure Creek Watershed in Keith County and Turtle Creek Watershed in Sarpy County.

The Gering delegation, headed by Tellford Ewing, Gering, told the committee the watershed suffered 14 damaging storms in the last eight years resulting in an estimated $6 million in damages.

The watershed has 60,000 acres of which 33,000 are irrigated lands.

Erosion, Flooding

The group said heavy rains in the hills cause flooding and erosion in the Gering drain area. The group said there are some 75 to 100 canyons that could be dammed to store the water.

The group said it was urgent that technical assistance be given soon.

The state committee was told by the Upper Big Nemaha Watershed delegation that in the past 8 years the 120,000 acre watershed has had five damaging floods.

One this year cost two lives in the Sterling area when a truck crashed into a creek after the bridge had been washed out. One body has never been recovered.

Members of the Cub Creek Watershed delegation reported 16 floods in the past 10 years including two in May. The watershed has 74,000 acres in Jefferson County and 26,000 acres in Gage County.

Train Death Suspect Taken To Colorado

Clifford L. Park, a transient who admitted pushing another transient when the latter fell from a train near Greeley, Colo., was returned to Colorado from Lincoln.

Park had been serving time in the Lancaster County Jail for "stealing a ride" on the same train from which Bill Querke, 48, was pushed to his death. Park waived extradition and was driven back to Colorado by Weld County, Colo., Sheriff Pat Burmeister and two of his deputies.

Fight For Wine

Park, 43, who lists Danville, Ill., as his home, admitted pushing Querke during a dispute over a bottle of wine last Saturday. Querke fell from the train and was killed.

Sheriff Burmeister said a manslaughter charge probably will be filed against Park.

Five Killed

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil (UPI) — Five persons were killed when a tugboat and a dredge collided in the harbor in the downtown section of the city. The dead included the tugboat captain and 4 crew members from the dredge.

Grand Island Dog Club Incorporates

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Grand Island Kennel Club, a nonprofit firm devoted to the advancement of all breeds of purebred dogs, the Nebraska Secretary of State's office reported.

Incorporators are Willard T. Armitage, Emma G. Cobb and Jessica S. Higgins, all of Grand Island.

The firm also intends to conduct dog shows and obedience trails under the rules of the American Kennel Club.

Other filings:

Apfel-Butler-Geddes Funeral Home, Inc., Grand Island; R. E. Apfel of Wood River, Donovan G. Butler and Floyd G. Butler, both of Hastings; Capital Stock authorized $100,000.

Zion Lutheran Church, Upland; Chris M. Petersen, Otto Nitzel, Albert Lieshe, Martin Greisen, Harm Best and Oval Choquette, all of Upland, and Carl H. Hubert of Bladen; non-profit.

Jones-Weaver-Minier-Martland Corp., Omaha, insurance; I. Wesley A. Jones and Francis L. Martland, both of Omaha, and Arthur J. Weaver and A. L. Minier, both of Lincoln, $50,000.

Draft Quota: 63

Sixty-three Nebraskans have been called by the Selective Service for the month of July, an increase of about 34% over the June call, Col. Francis S. Drath, acting state director, reported.

The increase represents Nebraska's share of the national increase from 6,000 to 8,000 men, Col. Drath said.

No persons are being called until the age of 22, nor are fathers being called, he said.

Grade School Certificate Standards Raised

A bill described as a "modest step" toward increasing requirements of those entering the teaching profession on the elementary grade level was passed 34-5, by the Legislature Thursday.

The measure, LB545, affects only elementary certificates based upon less than a baccalaureate degree.

It requires 40 instead of 30 semester hours of college credit for the lowest elementary certificate issued and at the same time makes the certificate valid for two years instead of one.

Under the bill, two years of college peparation will be required by 1965 of all teachers and a baccalaureate degree will be needed by many elementary teachers by that date. Exceptions will be those instructing in rural elementary schools and those teaching in kindergarten through 6th grade in schools located in towns of 1,000 or less.

The present junior elementary certificate, which is based on two years of college and is valid for 3 years in all elementary schools, will be issued and renewed until 1965 and thereafter renewed only.

Other bills passsed Thursday:

LB295, empowers Omaha to enter into a contract with the water or utilities district for the purpose of aiding in the collection of any sewer rental or use fee established by the city and to pay the charge therefor; provides that the water or utilities district may by contract provide such services to the city upon payment of the cost of the services. (39-0). E.

LB322, provides for establishment of a drainage system for any county not included in the boundaries of a drainage district organized under present statutes. (40-0).

LB426, provides that all member of a joint city-county planning commission need not reside within the corporate limits of a municipality but must be doing business in the municipality. (40-0).

LB463, spells out the powers of public power or public power and irrigation districts regarding radioactive material. (39-0).

LB570, provides for use by life insurance companies and the state department of insurance of a new mortality table. (40-0).

LB303, changes the provisions for instruction of pupils in another district; authorizes a school district to contract for the instruction of all or any part of its pupils. (41-0).

LB595, permits extension of the time that must elapse after filing form of insurance policy, endorsement, rider or application, before a policy of sickness and accident insurance may be issued. (40-0).

LB723, requires that all commercial trailers with a carrying capacity of more than 6,000 pounds shall be equipped on each wheel with brakes that can be operated from the driving position of the towing vehicle. (41-0).

Livestock Tax Study Asked

Two resolutions were introduced in the Legislature, one calling for a legislative council study of methods of taxing live stock.

The resolution, No. 41, introduced by Sens. Hans Jensen of Aurora, George Gerdes of Alliance and Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, would have the study made in the next two years.

In 1960 Nebraskans will vote on a proposed constitutional amendment to allow for a different method of taxing livestock. The proposed legislative council study would presumably make recommendations to the legislature if the constitutional amendment passed.

Also introduced and passed through a suspension of the rules was a resolution, No. 42, commending the public service of Omaha Atty. Harold Caldwell, who died Sunday.

Caldwell served in the Nebraska House of Representatives in 1925 and was attorney general for a short period in 1951. He also served as Omaha police commissioner.

Uninsured Squeeze

Tucson, Ariz. (AP)—University of Arizona officials warned students to forget about the telephone booth packing fad that's sweeping the country. The comptroller's office explained, "Our insurance policies don't cover phone booth packing."

Ruling On Voc Ed Board Given

The attorney general ruled Thursday that the State Board of Vocational Education cannot write off and cancel uncollected bills.

The opinion also said the holding of instructors liable for uncollected bills is a matter of administrative discretion.

The opinion continued that the Nebraska Vocational-Technical School can adjust and reduce an account payable so that the instructor, when held liable, will be required to pay only the actual wholesale cost to the school.

The problem arose as result of individuals bringing items to the school for repair and the items were released without prior payment of repair charges.

The school has a rule that instructors are liable for the bills if they release repairs items without first receiving payment.

The opinion also said the school can either sell or retain unclaimed production items to which title has been acquired by default.

Death For Treason

Accre (AP) — Ghana has announced the treason laws are being amended to provide for the death penalty.

Omaha's Budget Requests Slashed

Omaha (AP) — Finance Director Edwin J. Hewitt says Omaha city departmental budget requests for 1960 have been trimmed nearly $3 million and must still be cut one million more to make the general fund budget fit the money available.

A total of $2,500,000 was eliminated in one slash. That was asked by the police department for a new central station.

Huge Shopping Center Planned

Omaha (AP)—Developer John A. Wiebe has announced plans for a new shopping center to be built on a 100-acre site on the north side of Dodge Street between 98th Street and the new bypass inter-state highway. Wiebe said the center will cost more than $10 million, will have two or 3 department stores, plus another 100 tenants. There will be about 18 acres of floor space, and parking for 7,000 automobiles.

Getting Hep

Hollywood (UPI) — Clifton Webb is proving so adept at picking up "jive" talk from Carole Lynley, who plays his teen-age daughter in "Holiday for Lovers" at 20th Century-Fox, that his dialogue was changed to include the ad-libs.

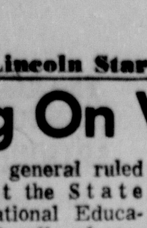
Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

We have spent 15 years (going on 16) second-guessing Dr. Spock and Gesell. Believe me, we have had some interesting results.



Anyway, school ended the other day. Hallelujah!

It is our custom on such days to saunter down by the school, mitt the teachers and generally congratulate each other. On what, I don't know. Maybe that we have both come through the year without taking an ax to the children.

"We don't seem to have found her motivation."

The teacher tells me this with a patient little smile.

"How about the grades?"

"The grades could be improved. However, we find some children simply are not the scholarly type."

Well, this is no news to your scholarly correspondent. We have been going through final examinations. And I can tell you, we both need a long rest.

"Use the word 'burthen' in a sentence," she said gritting her teeth. "That is the next question."

"Are you using a stage Irish accent? There is no such word as 'burthen'."

"There is so. It is right here in the book."

"It is a typo. A misprint."

"It is not."

"SHADDAP!"

That is the way we do our homework. Preparing for the finals.

Do you know there is such a word as "burthen?" True.

I reached for the dictionary. Just to show them. "Burthen. See Burden."

Now there is a word for you. "Burthen. See Burden."

"Why don't we just say burden? Like, 'Many a poor father finds his child a burden at examination time.'"

"I didn't make up the questions," she said sullenly. "If you don't help me, I will get a 'D.'"

We settled for "that blessed mood, in which the burthen of the mystery, in which the heavy and weary weight of all this unintelligible world, is lightened.

I got it out of Bartlett's Quotations. There was some chatter about "We are supposed to MAKE UP a sentence." But I shut her up on that.

I should make up sentences when Wordsworth has already done it for me.

"What is the next word?"

"Perigee."

"What?"

"Perigee."

"I never heard of such a word.'

"It is that point in the orbit of a heavenly body nearest the earth," she read from the dictionary.

"Heavenly days!"

"Use it in a sentence," she said. "Otherwise I will get a 'D'."

"Well, let me see. 'I can hardly wait for the perigee.' How is that?"

"I don't think it means anything," she said.

"I don't either," I said. "But maybe it will get the teacher off-balance figuring out what it MIGHT mean."

Anyway, school is out. And we did not get a "D." We are all looking for a little motivation. But have decided to put it off until next year.

Having worked on this project for 15 years (going on 16), I am in no hurry. I am patient.

STOCKS DECLINE

New York (AP)—A late selling squall Thursday tripped the stock market to its worst fall since May 7 and sheared an estimated 3½ billion dollars from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The decline in quoted values was based on a drop of $2.70 in The Associated Press average of 60 stocks, bringing the average down to $225.30.

The industrials dropped $3.90, rails $1.80 and utilities $1.10, putting that component down to a figure matching its 1959 low.

The Dow Jones industrial averages fell 6.85 to 630.54.

Brokers said two main factors were behind the setback:

Failure of the market to rally Wednesday after the sharp setback of Monday.

Growing concern over possibility that the administration may boost the 4 per cent interest rate ceiling on long-term U.S. government bonds.

U.S. government bonds, which plunged sharply Wednesday because of the second factor, steadied Thursday.

The stock retreat was on a broad front. Chemicals were about the hardest hit, selected issues in addition to the aluminums resisted the slide.

Nine of the 16 most active issues declined and seven advanced.

Corporate bonds took sizable losses.

Bond sales totaled $6,570,00 par value.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

New York (AP)—The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities Thursday advanced to 173.05.

Grain Prices Fall Slightly

Chicago (AP)—A private crop report which traders described as slightly bearish backed most grain futures down moderately Thursday on the Board of Trade.

The only exception was in oats which advanced small fractions of a cent. All other grains and soybeans declined in about the same ranges—major fractions at the worst.

On the basis of conditions June 1, the report estimated the winter wheat crop will be more than 938½ million bushels compared with the estimate a month ago of about 933½ million. A spring crop of 219¼ million was predicted. Last year's spring wheat yield was a little more than 282¼ million.

Wheat finished ¼-¾ cent a bushel lower, July $1.83¾-⅝; corn unchanged to ¾ lower, July $1.25⅞-26; oats ⅛-⅜ higher, July 63⅞; rye ⅜-⅝ lower, July $1.21¼; soybeans ⅜-¾ lower, July $2.25⅞-⅝.

Nicaragua Army Being Bolstered

Neighbor Nations Are Behind Rebels

Washington —The Council of the Organization of American States voted 17-2 Thursday to establish a committee to investigate the invasion of Nicaragua.

The move was opposed by Cuba and Venezuela.

By The Associated Press

Latin American trouble spots seethed in what seemed an ominous silence Thursday night. Diplomatic moves were tried meanwhile without much apparent success in the case of Nicaragua to restore order through outside political pressures.

Nicaragua officially claimed it was having no trouble in dealing with a small band of invaders that landed early this week. But the government of President Luis Somoza built up its armed strength and cracked down on civilian opponents.

In a mid-evening telephone interview between Somoza in Nicaragua and the Associated Press in New York, the president predicted the last remnants of the small invasion force would be wiped out within a week by his augmented National Guard.

Some of Nicaragua's neighbors lined up solidly with the anti-Somoza rebels.

In Venezuela, the chamber of deputies adopted a resolution backing "the people of Nicaragua in their fight for freedom."

In Honduras, a presidential letter was made public opposing Nicaragua's appeal to the Organization of American States (OAS) for help.

Bonds Sold In Cuba

In Cuba, exiled Nicaraguans began selling bonds to support the rebels. Cuban labor unions were among the first to line up as purchasers.

Private advices Thursday night from Nicaragua indicated the government's crisis was growing graver.

Nicaragua's ambassador, asking OAS action, said 3 yachts from Cuba were approaching Nicaragua's coast carrying rebel fighters from other countries.

Brotherhood Honor To Prof

Dr. Paul Meadows, University of Nebraska professor of sociology, will be given a special brotherhood citation Friday noon at a meeting of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The professor, cited for "courage and the ability to work in practical areas" of brotherhood, leaves the University of Nebraska this fall to become chairman of the sociology department at Syracuse University.

Dr. Meadows will speak on "Human Relations in the Local Community" at the luncheon meeting to be held at the Cornhusker Hotel.

O Street Entrance Plan For New Shopping Center Proposed

By Virgil Falloon

A plot plan for the Gateway Shopping Center showing proposed O Street entrances coinciding with Eastridge and Lyncrest Drives was filed Thursday with the City Council.

George Barton, Chicago traffic engineering consultant said in an accompanying letter that the plan was favored over off-set entrances, which "would needlessly increase the number of intersections."

Also, he said, the Lyncrest and O intersection could be signalized in the future, if necessary.

Report Expected

The Council is expected to refer the proposed plan to Planning Director Douglas Brogden for a report and recommendation.

Construction of the $3 million center on a 31-acre site near Cotner and O has started. Completion is planned for October, 1960.

Barton said R street is not contemplated as an arterial street. Traffic entering from the north would enter by a left-turning movement off of Cotner until 60th north of R is paved.

Two Moving Lanes

The Chicago consultant said the design of the O and Cotner intersection would provide for two moving lanes each direction with a left-turn lane.

A highway with two lanes each direction should have a median, either mounted or painted, Barton said.

Barton also asked if the city has fixed a schedule for the reconstruction of East O. "It would be a serious matter for the center," he said, "to have O street closed shortly after the center is completed."

So far, the Council has made no decisions as to future street improvements after the K and L projects as a two-way pair between 22nd and 16th.

Three possibilities have been indicated: (1) extension of K and L to 9th, (2) start of the Northeast diagonal highway, and (3) widening and reconstruction of O east of 27th with the immediate revamping of the 48th and O and Cotner and O intersections.

Strike Ends

Boston (AP)—The longest, and costliest, transportation strike in Massachusetts history ended when union and management representatives signed an agreement under which the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway will resume operations Sunday.

The contract calls for a 10 cents an hour raise spread over the 33 months ending July 1, 1961, additional paid holidays and improved arbitration procedure.

The measure now goes to the full Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

The oath requirement applies to all persons who receive assistance under the act, including students who get loans and teachers who receive grants for additional training.

Police are investigating the breaking of 14 automobile windshields and two trailer house windows at Arrow Motors, 125 West O. Damage will run as high as $665, police said.

They said that a BB gun was apparently used to break the glass. The damage was inflicted during the last week, according to police records.
